WHAT WELL-DRESSED COED WILL WEAR — Marilee Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. B. Redwood Girls Select Uniform

This is the uniform proposed for Redwood High School girls after weeks of study by a committee of girl students with the help of Parent-Teacher Assn. representatives.

However, a large sampling of opinion among Redwood coeds showed overwhelming sentiment in favor of uniform dress, trustees of Tamalpais Union High School District were informed last night.

"We were really amazed at the results," said Mrs. J. R. B. Ellis of the P-TA. "We anticipated a bare majority, but only 13 said 'no.'"

She said 378 girls were questioned. Of these 345 gave unqualified endorsement to the proposed uniform, while 20 were indifferent, but willing to go along with the majority. The 13 dissenters said they would not wear uniforms.

Mrs. Ellis said the wool skirt would cost $13.95; the sweater, $9.95, and the optional blazer, $22.95. No specific shirt has been selected.

The P-TA committee is conferring with several department stores and preparing an informative letter to be sent to Redwood girls and their parents, Mrs. Ellis reported.

The high school board agreed to the use of district mailing lists by the P-TA and, possibly, the department store to be selected.

Mrs. Ellis said the store could mail the uniforms to the girls.

The three board members present expressed their personal approval of the uniforms, but said they have no official power to condone or condemn the plan. Trustees Wallace W. Hayes and Edmund J. Thomas Jr. were absent.

Ross Couple Sues Bank In Name Mixup

A Ross couple, innocent victims of a mixup in names, are suing for $15,000 damages against a San Diego bank, which erroneously posted their property for attachment last May.

J. Norman Hendrickson and Virginia P. Hendrickson of 8 Fernhill avenue, Ross, filed the suit in Marin County Superior Court yesterday through San Francisco attorney Harriet Ross. They charge the U. S. National Bank of San Diego and several John Does of injuring their credit and causing them embarrassment and humiliation.

The San Diego bank and its agents had the Ross property attached, thinking it belonged to John R. Hendrickson of 27 Dellwood court, San Rafael. John R. Hendrickson is under investigation in connection with an alleged embezzlement of nearly four million dollars in Southern California. John R. Hendrickson's wife is Virginia A.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman Hendrickson of Ross do not know the other Hendricksons and are not connected in any way with the investigation of embezzlement.

Hillet C. Hornbeck, agent for the San Diego bank, withdrew the attachment on the Ross home when the mixup in identity was discovered. But the J. Norman Hendricksons allege their reputations were injured and sale of their Ross property impaired. They seek $10,000 general and $5,000 punitive damages.

Industry Zone Retained In E. San Rafael

City Council Denies Request For Change To Residential Use

Valuable industrial and commercial lands in East San Rafael Assessment District should be saved for industry instead of being rezoned back to residential, the city council decided last night.

The decision reversed a planning commission recommendation that the area between Canal street, Bellam boulevard, Alto, Rafael and Belvedere streets be given special apartment zoning. The area is now zoned planned commercial and light industrial.

SPEAKS FOR IT

Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the Marin Development Foundation, strongly urged that the industrial zoning be retained.

"We feel that there is a market, and the community may very well have a need for its development in commerce, services and light industrial uses," said Snyker.

"Recent new enterprises in the area, such as Coyne Tempered Glass Products and the bowling alley are indicative of the market we feel the area possesses."

Snyker added that apartment building fever is widespread throughout the county, and a saturation point could soon be reached.

MORE STUDENTS

San Rafael school officials, while taking no stand on the proposed rezoning, pointed out the expected student population growth that apartment zoning would bring.

Dr. Raymond J. Simpson, assistant superintendent, estimated an increase of 2,000 elementary school youngsters. This would require nearly three million dollars in school buildings and site improvements, not to mention the cost of getting about 30 acres of land, he pointed out.

Real estate man Al Fowler urged the rezoning to apartments. L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of San Rafael Newport Co. asked for more careful study, although he is in favor of apartment zoning.

Among the councilmen, Mayor John F. McInnis led the push to retain the area for industry. He pointed out that

BIRDMAN QUITS 'ROCK' AFTER 17-YEAR STAY

Robert F. Stroud, 69, was transferred from the maximum security federal prison in San Francisco Bay to the federal medical center at Springfield, Mo.

Stroud has known nothing but the inside of prison walls since 1909, when he was sentenced to 12 years for killing a bartender in Juneau, Alaska.

In 1916 he killed a guard in a Leavenworth Penitentiary dining hall. He was placed in solitary and stayed there until last October.

He had a laboratory and 22 live birds at Leavenworth and became an authority on bird diseases. He was sent to Alcatraz in 1942.

Word ofh is transfer came from Stroud himself in a letter to Stanley A. Furman, a Beverly Hills attorney

Boy, 5, Saved From Water At Tiburon

Five-year-old Max slipped between the dock and the building about 4:15 p.m. while his mother was helping older brother Brennan fish and also watching her baby.

Brennan noticed Max in the water and called his mother. Her screams attracted LaVerne Roberts of 136 West Blithedale avenue, Mill Valley, who jumped in and held the unconscious boy out of the water.

The Tiburon Fire Department resuscitation squad of Fire Chief Jack Ishmael and George Mantegani worked on the unconscious boy for 30 minutes before he resumed breathing, Ishmael reported.

Upon regaining consciousness he was placed under a doctor's care and was "resting comfortably" today, according to his mother at their home at 694 Hilary drive.

JUDGE STUDIES QUESTION

Can Court Designate Youngster's Faith?

Does a judge have the right to order that a child be brought up in a certain religious faith?

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin County Superior Court, who had this question suddenly tossed into his lap yesterday, declined to hand down an immediate ruling and asked instead for legal precedents.

Owen Schneider, who lives in Santa Clara County, and his former wife, now Mrs. Barbara Doyle of Marin County, came into court with attorney Norman Stoner of San Jose and asked the judge sign an order approving this stipulation:

That their daughter, Pamela Schneider, 9, shall be brought up in the Mormon faith by her mother, and shall have no further connection with the Catholic Church in any way, and that she be permitted to attend Presbyterian services while visiting with her father.

Both the father and mother have agreed to the stipulation, and their attorney explained they want a judge's order, merely to see that the terms of the stipulation are not violated.

Judge Keating asked for authorities on whether the court has power to accept such a stipulation. The judge reasoned the power to sign the order would mean the court has the original power to determine the faith under which a child should be brought up.

The attorney said he would try to produce authorities to show it can be done. He declined to discuss the case with newsmen. He said the Schneiders do not want to talk about it.

Luxury Homes Plan Debated At Belvedere

Antagonists Argue To Draw About Tidelands Project

Antagonists in the dispute over a Belvedere tidelands development fought to a draw last night in their first face-to-face bout.

Thirty-three persons lined the walls of the community hall to hear the preliminary master plan presentation to the Belvedere Planning Commission for the 55 luxury homes to be built on pilings below the western bluff of Belvedere Island.

Developers David Allen, Howard Allen and Russell Rice, representing Belvedere Properties, Inc., outlined the plans to a contingent of bluff lot owners, who would overlook the development, and other interested residents.

ONLY PRELIMINARY

Planning commissioner Thomas L. Wark, presiding in the absence of chairman George Goddard, stressed to the audience that this was a preliminary presentation and "we are not being asked at this time for a decision."

He said a committee would be appointed by Goddard to study the plans before a recommendation was made to the city council.

Main point of the discussion was the effect the dredging operations and road building would have on the face of the bluff. During lengthy questioning by engineer Morton W. Lieberman on the cliff stability and profile, the developers contended: "We will not do anything to disturb the cliffside." They said dredging would be only on the lots beyond the homesites.

NO COMMENT ON ROAD

Neither side had any comment on whether the new beach road should be private or public. Whether the continuation of San Rafael avenue connects to Belvedere or ends in a cul de sac will depend on further study of the traffic pattern.

"We plan to dedicate the road and the cliffside to the city to preserve it's wild state," David Allen said.

Questions on fire protection, water pressure and retention of the area beyond the proposed homes for recreation were all discussed.

The only laughter by both sides during the evening came when Cmdr. Harold H. Horne, terming the development "a cannery row, plush or not," said the new homes would present a sewage problem.

"What is going to happen to the cracked crab and beer cans from a Friday night bust?" he asked.

Incorporation Election Assured; Fight Looms

Bert W. Broemmel, county assessor, certified to George S. Jones, Marin County clerk, that the legal minimum of petitions asking such election had been found in order.

To qualify for a vote, Broemmel explained, there must be signatures of at least 25 per cent of the owners of land within the designated area, representing at least 25 per cent of the assessed value of the land. The petitions filed with him qualified on both counts, he announced.

After certification to the board of supervisors, there must be publication according to law and the board will set the election date.

It has been estimated that the area for which incorporation is sought has 17,500 population, including military personnel at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Clark M. Palmer Jr., chairman of the Novato Home Rule Committee which circulated the petitions, said it was no surprise to him that the petitions had been verified.

"We wouldn't have submitted them in the first place if we hadn't been confident they were complete," he said when informed of Broemmel's announcement by the Independent-Journal. "But we are certainly happy they have been verified."

Palmer added that his committee will continue in existence until the election on incorporation is held. He said the group's main function henceforth will be to convince

Ike Nominates New Secretary Of Commerce

Mueller has been undersecretary of commerce since Dec. 3, 1958. For two years before that he was assistant secretary for domestic affairs.

He has been acting secretary since rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss stepped out of the commerce spot after the Senate rejected his nomination. Strauss had been serving under a recess appointment made while Congress was not in session.

Municipal Court Filings Show Trend Down

A downward trend in Marin Municipal Court filings today somewhat worried the Marin County Board of Supervisors, but apparently board members are going to take no action against the appointment of a third court judge.

The board already has approved the third department, which was approved by the recently adjourned Legislature. It remains for the governor to appoint a judge.

The court would go into effect next month.

Discussion of possible value of the extra court started after County Administrator Donald A. Jensen reported on county department performance forecasts and results for the past fiscal year.

"Total municipal court filings," he said, "show a downward trend for the last four months of the fiscal year as compared with the previous year. Total number of filings for 1958-59 is 51,019 compared with 51,534 for 1957-58."

This brought the comment from Supervisor William D. Fusselman: "If the court load is going down, we're saddling the county with added construction and arrangements for space and more personnel."

Supervisor Vera Schultz said the "governor probably could sign the bill but not appoint a judge."

County Pay Inequities Studied By Supervisors

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today sought to correct county employee salary inequities, but made no final decision.

The discussion revolved around a report made by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, who made recommendations after consulting with department heads.

The board, during its final consideration of the budget several days ago, granted a 5 per cent salary increase, but denied requests for more than that amount.

Jensen told the board today that increases contained in his recommendation, including some for more than 5 per cent, would total $25,131, and he thought that this amount is within the $26,000 which was figured in final budget action.

His recommendation included 35 changes that would be effective Aug. 1, or in the case of the municipal court on Sept. 19.

Most of these included only one-range raises, or about 5 per cent. Some of the raises reflect requests by county department heads, but Jensen said he also included proposed raises involving jobs in other departments so salaries would "be kept in line."

Among those who asked for more than a one-range increase was Planning Director Mary Summers. She is being recommended for a two-range increase. She had requested a four-range increase, or about a 25 per cent salary boost. Jensen said her position has been determined to be roughly one range above the chief assistants to elected county officials.

Jensen recommended increases to bring public health nurses' salaries in line with those of sanitarians. Veterans Service Officer W. P. (Doc) Duhamel's salary would be put in line with that of the county sealer, considered the lowest county department head salary. Part of Duhamel's salary, which is determined by board action, is paid by the state.

The board decided to let a decision on these increases ride until next Tuesday.

The board approved several reclassifications which will result in raises.

Special step increases are being considered for personnel in the probation and health departments. The board indicated it will decide on these next week.

The board will seek the opinion of the county counsel as to whether raises can be granted municipal court clerks as of July 1. The government code does not provide for raises until Sept. 19.

2 San Rafael Chores Given To County

Starting the next fiscal year, 1960-61, San Rafael's assessments and tax collections will be handled by the county, under an ordinance introduced by the city council last night.

The ordinance turning over to the county the job of assessing and tax collection was introduced by unanimous vote. Several other cities have already turned the job over to the county.

For the present fiscal year, city tax bills and collections will be processed by city officials. City Clerk W. L. Morgan announced the city tax rolls are now open for public inspection in the city hall.

For San Rafael taxpayers who want to protest their city assessments, the councilmen will sit as a board of equalization at 10 a.m. on Aug. 10.

Ross Couple Sues Bank In Name Mixup

A Ross couple, innocent victims of a mixup in names, are suing for $15,000 damages against a San Diego bank, which erroneously posted their property for attachment last May.

J. Norman Hendrickson and Virginia P. Hendrickson of 8 Fernhill avenue, Ross, filed the suit in Marin County Superior Court yesterday through San Francisco attorney Harriet Ross. They charge the U. Industry Zone Retained In E. San Rafael

City Council Denies Request For Change To Residential Use

Valuable industrial and commercial lands in East San Rafael Assessment District should be saved for industry instead of being rezoned back to residential, the city council decided last night.

The decision reversed a planning commission recommendation that the area between Canal street, Bellam boulevard, Alto, Rafael and Belvedere streets be given special apartment zoning. The area is now zoned planned commercial and light industrial.

SPEAKS FOR IT

Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the Marin Development Foundation, strongly urged that the industrial zoning be retained.

JUDGE STUDIES QUESTION

Can Court Designate Youngster's Faith?

Does a judge have the right to order that a child be brought up in a certain religious faith?

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin County Superior Court, who had this question suddenly tossed into his lap yesterday, declined to hand down an immediate ruling and asked instead for legal precedents.

Owen Schneider, who lives in Santa Clara County, and his former wife, now Mrs. Barbara Doyle of Marin County, came into court with attorney Norman Stoner of San Jose and asked the judge sign an order approving this stipulation:

That their daughter, Pamela Schneider, 9, shall be brought up in the Mormon faith by her mother, and shall have no further connection with the Catholic Church in any way, and that she be permitted to attend Presbyterian services while visiting with her father.

Both the father and mother have agreed to the stipulation, and their attorney explained they want a judge's order, merely to see that the terms of the stipulation are not violated.

Judge Keating asked for authorities on whether the court has power to accept such a stipulation. The judge reasoned the power to sign the order would mean the court has the original power to determine the faith under which a child should be brought up.

The attorney said he would try to produce authorities to show it can be done. He declined to discuss the case with newsmen. He said the Schneiders do not want to talk about it.

Antagonists Argue To Draw About Tidelands Project

He has been acting secretary since rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss stepped out of the commerce spot after the Senate rejected his nomination. Strauss had been serving under a recess appointment made while Congress was not in session.

Municipal Court Filings Show Trend Down

A downward trend in Marin Municipal Court filings today somewhat worried the Marin County Board of Supervisors, but apparently board members are going to take no action against the appointment of a third court judge.

The board already has approved the third department, which was approved by the recently adjourned Legislature. It remains for the governor to appoint a judge.

The court would go into effect next month.

Discussion of possible value of the extra court started after County Administrator Donald A. Jensen reported on county department performance forecasts and results for the past fiscal year.

"Total municipal court filings," he said, "show a downward trend for the last four months of the fiscal year as compared with the previous year. Total number of filings for 1958-59 is 51,019 compared with 51,534 for 1957-58."

This brought the comment from Supervisor William D. Fusselman: "If the court load is going down, we're saddling the county with added construction and arrangements for space and more personnel."

Supervisor Vera Schultz said the "governor probably could sign the bill but not appoint a judge."

County Pay Inequities Studied By Supervisors

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today sought to correct county employee salary inequities, but made no final decision.

The discussion revolved around a report made by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, who made recommendations after consulting with department heads.

The board, during its final consideration of the budget several days ago, granted a 5 per cent salary increase, but denied requests for more than that amount.

Jensen told the board today that increases contained in his recommendation, including some for more than 5 per cent, would total $25,131, and he thought that this amount is within the $26,000 which was figured in final budget action.

His recommendation included 35 changes that would be effective Aug. 1, or in the case of the municipal court on Sept. 19.

Most of these included only one-range raises, or about 5 per cent. Some of the raises reflect requests by county department heads, but Jensen said he also included proposed raises involving jobs in other departments so salaries would "be kept in line."

Among those who asked for more than a one-range increase was Planning Director Mary Summers. She is being recommended for a two-range increase. She had requested a four-range increase, or about a 25 per cent salary boost. Jensen said her position has been determined to be roughly one range above the chief assistants to elected county officials.

Jensen recommended increases to bring public health nurses' salaries in line with those of sanitarians. Veterans Service Officer W. P. (Doc) Duhamel's salary would be put in line with that of the county sealer, considered the lowest county department head salary. Part of Duhamel's salary, which is determined by board action, is paid by the state.

The board decided to let a decision on these increases ride until next Tuesday.

The board approved several reclassifications which will result in raises.

Special step increases are being considered for personnel in the probation and health departments. The board indicated it will decide on these next week.

The board will seek the opinion of the county counsel as to whether raises can be granted municipal court clerks as of July 1. The government code does not provide for raises until Sept. 19.

2 San Rafael Chores Given To County

Starting the next fiscal year, 1960-61, San Rafael's assessments and tax collections will be handled by the county, under an ordinance introduced by the city council last night.

The ordinance turning over to the county the job of assessing and tax collection was introduced by unanimous vote. Several other cities have already turned the job over to the county.

For the present fiscal year, city tax bills and collections will be processed by city officials. City Clerk W. L. Morgan announced the city tax rolls are now open for public inspection in the city hall.

For San Rafael taxpayers who want to protest their city assessments, the councilmen will sit as a board of equalization at 10 a.m. on Aug. 10.

FALSE TEETH
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

County Demos Hit Sharing Of Atom Data

The Marin County Democratic Central Committee today dispatched a telegram to President Eisenhower protesting the proposed agreements for sharing United States atomic know-how with seven North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations.

The commitee drew up the telegram at a meeting last night. Copies were addressed also to Senators William B. Fullbright of Arkansas and Clair M. Engle and Thomas H. Kuchel of California, and to Reps. Clement W. Miller and Chet Hollifield.

The telegram declared:

"Proposed amendments would jeopardize if not scuttle chances of East-West settlement on Berlin involving Central European neutralization or eventual German reunification.

"They would immeasurably decrease psychological and technical ability to outlaw further harmful testing of armaments among increasing number of nations to point of no return where a devastating world war may come by accident if not design."

Turning to a local matter, the Democratic Central Committee went on record as supporting the study of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula for a national seashore recreation area.

Free Polio Shots Set Tomorrow At Health Building

Free polio vaccinations will be given from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow at the County Health Department building at 920 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

A sampling survey by voluntary interviewers this month indicated that many adults continue unaware of the need for Salk shots, said Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health officer.

"In Marin County nearly as many cases of polio have been reported in adults as in children, though cases are few in persons over 40," she said.

"Perhaps I would agree with the little lady of 98 who told the interviewer she wouldn't bother now to get vaccinated. But for the rest, who have had less time to develop immunity, Salk vaccine is a must."

Charge Dropped In 1950 Gun Death

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — The district attorney's office yesterday withdrew a murder charge against Menlo Park housewife Dolly Williams for the 9-year-old shooting death of Edgar J. Sieger.

"Exhaustive tests and a thorough examination of the defendant's background have caused investigators to be certain," said Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson, "that Edward J. Sieger Jr. died of a gun accident on Dec. 10, 1950."

Sorenson said Mrs. Williams appeared to be in need of psychiatric help. She apparently was seeking publicity, he said, when she came to the police with her first story, later repudiated, of having shot Sieger when she visited him in his home while he was cleaning his rifle.

Kentfield School Tax Rate To Drop

A 10 per cent increase in Kentfield School District's assessed valuation will mean a 15-cent tax rate decrease during 1959-60, according to estimates given district trustees last night by Supt. Harold R. DePue.

The trustees adopted a 1959-60 budget of $578,000 which calls for a $1.60 general fund tax rate per $100 assessed valuation, compared to last year's $1.75.

The superintendent cautioned that unless there is a similar increase in assessed valuation next year, the tax rate is likely to rise again to the $1.75 limit.

DePue said the district's four "override taxes" and bond redemption tax rates had not been calculated yet for the 1959-60 fiscal year. The board will hold a budget hearing at its next meeting, Aug. 3 at 7:45 p.m. in A. E. Kent School library.

The four trustees at last night's meeting learned that separate administration of Kentfield School District will cost approximately $10,500 next fiscal year for staff salaries, an administration office and its equipment. The joint administration of Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax school districts is slated to end on June 30, 1960.

In other business last night, the trustees:

1. Re-elected Mrs. Rachael Conner as president of the board (she was the one absent) and Trustee Henry G. Hayes as clerk. Trustee J. R. B. Ellis was selected as board representative to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.
2. Accepted with thanks a 24-inch television set from Dexter Television Service of Larkspur. It has been installed in the Kent School multi-use room and will be used for special events, such as speeches by President Eisenhower, said Supt. Harold R. DePue. The district has no plans to subscribe to KQED's educational television.
3. Accepted the resignation of Robert Rowe, for four years assistant principal at Kent School. He will be principal of Wakefield Elementary School in Turlock when school opens in September.

Missile Display Set In S. F. Hotel

On Thursday, the Gold Room of San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel will become the locale for an exhibit and demonstration of the guided missile systems and equipment now in use at Marin's Nike sites, according to Col. Andrew R. Lolli, commanding the 40th Antiaircraft Artillery Brigade at Ft. Barry.

A Nike-Ajax missile and its larger counterpart, the 42-foot Nike-Hercules, with their radar and other electronic equipment will be shown and explained by army personnel.

The showing is free and the equipment will be on display from 3 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., Colonel Lolli said.

NAME IS SAME BUT NOW IT'S OFFICIAL

Custom and usage, even a short-lived custom, can be very persuasive when it comes to naming a new school.

Last night Kentfield School District trustees decided that the school known informally as the Wolfe Grade school all during its planning stages would be known officially from now on as: Wolfe Grade School.

The new six-room school is slated to be completed on Nov. 10. The site is filled marshland at the foot of Wolfe Grade, just west of Marin Catholic High School on Sir Francis Drake boulevard. It is the district's third elementary school.

'Flying Nun' Will Take Class Aloft

Sister Mary Aquinas, the flying nun from Green Bay, will take her 35-member University of San Francisco summer class for a flight aboard a C118 Flying Boxcar from Hamilton Air Force Base next Tuesday.

That doesn't mean Sister Mary, a firm believer in the jet age, has given up hope of being the first nun to break the sound barrier aboard a jet plane. But she has accepted a 4th Air Force offer to go aloft in the slower transport craft, the Air Force announced today.

Takeoff time has been set for 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Earlier, Sister Mary had applied for 4th Air Force permission to co-pilot a supersonic jet. But the 4th Air Force does not have them. It's fastest plane is the T33 jet trainer.

"Too slow!" said Sister Mary.

Ailing Queen Will Fly Home

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II will fly straight home at the end of her Canadian tour instead of returning in the royal yacht Britannia, Buckingham Palace reported today.

The announcement followed the queen's round of medical consultations. She has suffered an upset stomach and British papers are expressing anxiety that the 15,000-mile tour is undermining her health.

Ex-Police Chief Of San Rafael County Jailer

Former San Rafael Police Chief Frank Kelly, defeated in last spring's municipal election, today was appointed to a full-time job at the county jail.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors appointed Kelly assistant head jailer at a monthly salary of $415. He will fill an existing vacancy. He has been on the job on a per diem basis.

WILL TAKE EXAM

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said Kelly next week will take a civil service examination for the job, but members of the board said they doubted that he will fail.

The board also made these other appointments, most of them from a per-diem basis:

Lois Stumpf, intermediate typist clerk in the tax collector office at $295 a month; Marie Katherine Doyle, intermediate stenographer clerk in the district attorney's office at $310 a month; Kate MacArthur, medical social worker in the medical department at $458; George P. Wing, legal clerk in the county clerk's office, at $395, to replace Robert Fleckner.

AT HOSPITAL

At the county hospital and farm, Tuen Wong, kitchen helper at $220, to replace Hom Jung; Mary B. Johnson, practical nurse at $243 to replace Monzella Howe; Dorothy Lee, practical nurse at $231 to replace Bernice Brady, and Osie V. Vickers at the same salary and job to replace Georgiana Sovulewski.

In the probation department, Jennie Scott, intermediate account clerk at $325, and Robert F. Fitch and Richard A. McKone, deputy probation officer at $458.

Ida McKinney was appointed library assistant on part-time basis. Fred W. Westphal was named assistant chief building inspector at $613.

Proof In Trunk

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — When people don't believe Reid Trail once ran over and killed a 12-foot python on a highway near Roanoke, he pulls the stuffed snake out of the trunk of his automobile. Trail says his wife won't let him keep the stuffed reptile in the house. The snake, a native of Asia and Africa, is believed to have escaped from a circus.

SCOUTS TARGET OF AUTOGRAPH FANS IN CAMP

Jim Garrett of San Rafael yesterday assumed the role of celebrity as he spent the day signing autograph books at Mount Maklin in the Philippine Islands.

The autograph hounds following the American scouts were Filipino visitors and scouts from the neighboring Indonesian camp. Fifty thousand spectators cheered the U.S. Scouts yesterday as they presented a pageant depicting the building of America.

Tenant Unit To Reduce Membership

The Marin City Tenants Council decided last night that 13 is an unlucky number.

This has nothing to do with superstition, said Mrs. Doris Rochelle, council secretary. The council has 13 members—and that's too many to get out regularly to meetings, she said.

A committee was set up to draft a recommendation for reducing the membership.

The council last night seated Rev. Samuel Banks as a member and received a request from him that space in the community lounge be allocated for a Sept. 14 meeting of the Marin County Committee on Racial Discrimination.

Union Trustees Rehire Teacher

The contract of Mrs. Harriet Wierschke as principal-teacher of the Union Joint School District was renewed last night at the regular meeting of the board.

The school, located approximately two miles out of Petaluma on the Pt. Reyes road, has 14 pupils from first to seventh grade. Mrs. Wierschke teaches all subjects.

Re-elected as clerk of the board was Mrs. Eleanor Pomi.

Spur Applied For Mill Valley Harbor Project

The chairman of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission today applied the spur to his city council for action on development of a small craft harbor in Richardson Bay.

Chairman Charles P. Gulchard read to the recreation commission last night a letter he said he would dispatch to the city council, urging haste to qualify for a state loan for the proposed $300,000 project. He noted that Gov. Edmund G. Brown had signed an enabling bill last week.

The commission also:

1. Approved and passed to the planning commission a tentative plan prepared by Robert Laughead and George Roemer for development of the Project 17 recreation area in the marshlands.

2. Set for Aug. 17 a public meeting on the application of manager-caterer Jacques Nadler for an on-sale liquor license at the city-owned Mill Valley Golf Club.

3. Rejected a proposal for a city-wide poison oak eradication program.

Free Polio Shots Set Tomorrow At Health Building

Free polio vaccinations will be given from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow at the County Health Department building at 920 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

A sampling survey by voluntary interviewers this month indicated that many adults continue unaware of the need for Salk shots, said Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health officer.

Charge Dropped In 1950 Gun Death

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — The district attorney's office yesterday withdrew a murder charge against Menlo Park housewife Dolly Williams for the 9-year-old shooting death of Edgar J. Sieger.

"Exhaustive tests and a thorough examination of the defendant's background have caused investigators to be certain," said Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson, "that Edward J. Sieger Jr. died of a gun accident on Dec. 10, 1950."

Kentfield School Tax Rate To Drop

A 10 per cent increase in Kentfield School District's assessed valuation will mean a 15-cent tax rate decrease during 1959-60, according to estimates given district trustees last night by Supt. Harold R. DePue.

The trustees adopted a 1959-60 budget of $578,000 which calls for a $1.60 general fund tax rate per $100 assessed valuation, compared to last year's $1.75.

The superintendent cautioned that unless there is a similar increase in assessed valuation next year, the tax rate is likely to rise again to the $1.75 limit.

DePue said the district's four "override taxes" and bond redemption tax rates had not been calculated yet for the 1959-60 fiscal year. The board will hold a budget hearing at its next meeting, Aug. 3 at 7:45 p.m. in A. E. Kent School library.

The four trustees at last night's meeting learned that separate administration of Kentfield School District will cost approximately $10,500 next fiscal year for staff salaries, an administration office and its equipment. The joint administration of Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax school districts is slated to end on June 30, 1960.

1. Re-elected Mrs. Rachael Conner as president of the board (she was the one absent) and Trustee Henry G. Hayes as clerk. Trustee J. R. B. Ellis was selected as board representative to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.
2. Accepted with thanks a 24-inch television set from Dexter Television Service of Larkspur. It has been installed in the Kent School multi-use room and will be used for special events, such as speeches by President Eisenhower, said Supt. Harold R. DePue. The district has no plans to subscribe to KQED's educational television.
3. Accepted the resignation of Robert Rowe, for four years assistant principal at Kent School. He will be principal of Wakefield Elementary School in Turlock when school opens in September.

NAME IS SAME BUT NOW IT'S OFFICIAL

Custom and usage, even a short-lived custom, can be very persuasive when it comes to naming a new school.

Last night Kentfield School District trustees decided that the school known informally as the Wolfe Grade school all during its planning stages would be known officially from now on as: Wolfe Grade School.

The new six-room school is slated to be completed on Nov. 10. The site is filled marshland at the foot of Wolfe Grade, just west of Marin Catholic High School on Sir Francis Drake boulevard. It is the district's third elementary school.

Missile Display Set In S. F. Hotel

On Thursday, the Gold Room of San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel will become the locale for an exhibit and demonstration of the guided missile systems and equipment now in use at Marin's Nike sites, according to Col. Andrew R. Lolli, commanding the 40th Antiaircraft Artillery Brigade at Ft. Barry.

A Nike-Ajax missile and its larger counterpart, the 42-foot Nike-Hercules, with their radar and other electronic equipment will be shown and explained by army personnel.

The showing is free and the equipment will be on display from 3 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., Colonel Lolli said.

'Flying Nun' Will Take Class Aloft

Sister Mary Aquinas, the flying nun from Green Bay, will take her 35-member University of San Francisco summer class for a flight aboard a C118 Flying Boxcar from Hamilton Air Force Base next Tuesday.

That doesn't mean Sister Mary, a firm believer in the jet age, has given up hope of being the first nun to break the sound barrier aboard a jet plane. But she has accepted a 4th Air Force offer to go aloft in the slower transport craft, the Air Force announced today.

Takeoff time has been set for 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Earlier, Sister Mary had applied for 4th Air Force permission to co-pilot a supersonic jet. But the 4th Air Force does not have them. It's fastest plane is the T33 jet trainer.

"Too slow!" said Sister Mary.

Ailing Queen Will Fly Home

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II will fly straight home at the end of her Canadian tour instead of returning in the royal yacht Britannia, Buckingham Palace reported today.

The announcement followed the queen's round of medical consultations. She has suffered an upset stomach and British papers are expressing anxiety that the 15,000-mile tour is undermining her health.

Ex-Police Chief Of San Rafael County Jailer

Former San Rafael Police Chief Frank Kelly, defeated in last spring's municipal election, today was appointed to a full-time job at the county jail.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors appointed Kelly assistant head jailer at a monthly salary of $415. He will fill an existing vacancy. He has been on the job on a per diem basis.

WILL TAKE EXAM

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said Kelly next week will take a civil service examination for the job, but members of the board said they doubted that he will fail.

The board also made these other appointments, most of them from a per-diem basis:

Lois Stumpf, intermediate typist clerk in the tax collector office at $295 a month; Marie Katherine Doyle, intermediate stenographer clerk in the district attorney's office at $310 a month; Kate MacArthur, medical social worker in the medical department at $458; George P. Wing, legal clerk in the county clerk's office, at $395, to replace Robert Fleckner.

AT HOSPITAL

At the county hospital and farm, Tuen Wong, kitchen helper at $220, to replace Hom Jung; Mary B. Johnson, practical nurse at $243 to replace Monzella Howe; Dorothy Lee, practical nurse at $231 to replace Bernice Brady, and Osie V. Vickers at the same salary and job to replace Georgiana Sovulewski.

In the probation department, Jennie Scott, intermediate account clerk at $325, and Robert F. Fitch and Richard A. McKone, deputy probation officer at $458.

Ida McKinney was appointed library assistant on part-time basis. Fred W. Westphal was named assistant chief building inspector at $613.

Proof In Trunk

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — When people don't believe Reid Trail once ran over and killed a 12-foot python on a highway near Roanoke, he pulls the stuffed snake out of the trunk of his automobile. Trail says his wife won't let him keep the stuffed reptile in the house. The snake, a native of Asia and Africa, is believed to have escaped from a circus.

SCOUTS TARGET OF AUTOGRAPH FANS IN CAMP

Jim Garrett of San Rafael yesterday assumed the role of celebrity as he spent the day signing autograph books at Mount Maklin in the Philippine Islands.

The autograph hounds following the American scouts were Filipino visitors and scouts from the neighboring Indonesian camp. Fifty thousand spectators cheered the U.S. Scouts yesterday as they presented a pageant depicting the building of America.

Tenant Unit To Reduce Membership

The Marin City Tenants Council decided last night that 13 is an unlucky number.

This has nothing to do with superstition, said Mrs. Doris Rochelle, council secretary. The council has 13 members—and that's too many to get out regularly to meetings, she said.

A committee was set up to draft a recommendation for reducing the membership.

The council last night seated Rev. Samuel Banks as a member and received a request from him that space in the community lounge be allocated for a Sept. 14 meeting of the Marin County Committee on Racial Discrimination.

Glen Robinson resigned as recreation director.

Union Trustees Rehire Teacher

The contract of Mrs. Harriet Wierschke as principal-teacher of the Union Joint School District was renewed last night at the regular meeting of the board.

The school, located approximately two miles out of Petaluma on the Pt. Reyes road, has 14 pupils from first to seventh grade. Mrs. Wierschke teaches all subjects.

Re-elected as clerk of the board was Mrs. Eleanor Pomi.

Spur Applied For Mill Valley Harbor Project

The chairman of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission today applied the spur to his city council for action on development of a small craft harbor in Richardson Bay.

Chairman Charles P. Guichard read to the recreation commission last night a letter he said he would dispatch to the city council, urging haste to qualify for a state loan for the proposed $300,000 project. He noted that Gov. Edmund G. Brown had signed an enabling bill last week.

The commission also:

1. Approved and passed to the planning commission a tentative plan prepared by Robert Laughead and George Roemer for development of the Project 17 recreation area in the marshlands.
2. Set for Aug. 17 a public meeting on the application of manager-caterer Jacques Nadler for an on-sale liquor license at the city-owned Mill Valley Golf Club.
3. Rejected a proposal for a city-wide poison oak eradication program.

Layoffs Of Workers Mount In Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Layoffs of workers continue to mount in businesses affected by the nationwide steel strike, one week old today.

An estimated 45,000 employes of railroads, coal mining firms, shipping companies and other businesses are off the job.

In Cleveland yesterday 1,900 more workers were furloughed, increasing to 3,900 the number laid off since the strike began.

Several hundred truck drivers were laid off by Cleveland firms that haul steel. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad laid off 50 workers in Cleveland and 200 in the Youngstown, Niles and Warren sections of Ohio. Three Great Lakes shipping companies furloughed 850 seamen because cargoes of ore could not be unloaded at steel mill piers.

The General Refractories Co. announced in Philadelphia 500 workers have been sent home because refractory brick can't be shipped to the steel mills.

The Delaware and Hudson Railroad said in New York it has had to drop 155 men from payrolls at its Colonia and Oneonta shops because of reduced shipments.

Meanwhile, action still is pending on petitions by the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. for injunctions to ban the union from what the company calls illegal picketing at its plants in Aliquippa, Pa., and Pittsburgh. The corporation contends about 400 to 500 supervisors are locked in the plants. The union denies the charge.

Aluminum Talks Set By McDonald

NEW YORK (AP)—Steelworkers Union president David J. McDonald personally will take a hand in wage talks with aluminum companies, hoping a settlement there might shorten the steel strike.

McDonald's attempt to win a wage breakthrough in aluminum was considered an unusual step. Aluminum industry settlements usually follow the pattern set by steel.

Contracts with the "Big Three" aluminum companies—Alcoa, Reynolds and Kaiser—expire July 31. The firms employ about 58,000 production workers. The steel union represents about 30,500 of them. A strike would shut down about 50 per cent of the country's aluminum production.

BEAUTY CONTEST ROW

Sen. Kennedy's Name Dragged Into Dispute

LONG BEACH (AP)—Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) has become innocently involved in the Miss Universe contest.

Miss Sue Simone Ingersoll, abdicated New Mexico entry in the beauty pageant, called a press conference last night.

First she said she withdrew from the contest not because of official Roman Catholic censure but because her chaperone wouldn't allow her to receive telephone messages.

Then, flanked by press agents, she issued a press release.

"There exists bitter feelings between religious groups in our country, and because of the analogy between myself and a Catholic presidential candidate, I feel a statement of clarification is in order," it read.

"Non-Catholics fear the Catholic church because they fear the clergy dictates to a blindly obedient laity. The implications of such an erroneous belief regarding a Catholic political candidate are obvious. It is my sole desire to show that the hierarchy cannot, under any circumstances, dictate to laity.

Questioned by newsmen, the 22-year-old red-haired beauty smiled faintly and admitted she knew nothing about Senator Kennedy, the only leading Catholic presidential aspirant.

Then she admitted something else—that she had not read the press release. Nor would she say who wrote it.

WHAT NOT TO DO WHILE ON TRAIN IN JAPAN

TOKYO (UPI) — The Japan National Railways Corp., which runs one of the most efficient train system in the world, has launched an "etiquette training" program to make its passengers the neatest and best-mannered as well.

A spokesman for the corporation said special officers will be assigned to 24 trains to tell passengers how to behave. They will tell passengers not to:

Walk around railway cars in their underwear.

Rail Coach Fare Hike Authorized

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday authorized 10 railroads to increase their interstate coach fares by 5 per cent on selected routes in the West.

The ICC said the increases now may be made on one day's notice.

The authorization applies to both one-way and round-trip fares.

Generally speaking, no increases will be made on through travel between Kansas City and Chicago, Los Angeles and Kansas City and Fort Worth and Houston.

The railroads affected are the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Rock Island, St. Louis Southwestern, Illinois Central, the Missouri-Kansas-Texas, Northwestern Pacific, Western Pacific, the San Diego and Arizona Eastern and the Texas-New Orleans.

RADIATION ACCIDENT CAUSES U.C. TO CLOSE LAB BUILDING

BERKELEY (UPI)—A building at the University of California radiation laboratory was closed for two weeks because some radioactive curium was accidentally "spilled," the university said today.

None of the five persons who were exposed to the radioactive materials was endangered, a spokesman said.

The main reason the lab was closed for decontamination was because the small amount of radiation would have upset delicate instruments used on other experiments, the official said.

The accident occurred July 3 and involved 300 micrograms of curium, about as much as "a few specks of dust."

A heavy-ion accelerator was bombarding the curium when a gas foil or "window" broke and some curium escaped. Human error was to blame, the spokesman said.

Gromyko Firm In Face Of Western Threat

Gromyko insisted on his demand for the creation of an all-German committee as the price of a Berlin truce agreement. He made his position clear at a secret session.

A U.S. spokesman said there was no progress in the 90-minute discussion, which followed a luncheon at Gromyko's villa. Officials said that as a practical matter it appears the meetings will continue next week.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Gromyko at a secret session yesterday that unless there is some progress here in the next few days, the West will bring the conference to a speedy conclusion.

It was reported that Herter warned Gromyko for the second day running that the West stands ready to break off the talks unless the Soviets lower their price for a stopgap deal on the future of berlin.

AWOL Suspect Booked At Jail

An 18-year-old sailor from Marin City was booked yesterday in Marin County Jail on suspicion of being AWOL.

An agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, with the help of San Rafael and San Anselmo police, arrested William Hampton Roach Jr. of House 729, Marin City.

years had been spent to prepare the area for industrial growth. It it is rezoned to apartments, the area will be lost forever, he said.

"I do not think the best interest of San Rafael will be served by this rezoning," declared the mayor.

Councilman Louis H. Baar said he is very much against rezoning because the area is needed for light industrial use. He moved to reject the rezoning. Councilman Fred E. Jensen seconded the motion, which passed unanimously.

September Start Set For Terrace

Construction of the Southern Marin Recreation Center's Poolside Arbor Terrace, designed by landscape architect Robert Royston, will be started by volunteer labor in September, it was decided last night by directors of the center.

The work will be under direction of director Fred Zimmerman, and supervised by Rec center member Bart Heidelbach, president George McKegney said.

The 14-foot wide terrace will have overhead cantilever glass and five bays alternated with seven-foot windbreaks. The bays will contain tables and benches for outside eating.

The finance committee announced a special fund has been set up for capital expansion toward construction of the center's west wing. Start of construction is planned for early fall, McKegney said.

Board member Allen Bartholemy resigned as he is moving from the area. A nominating committee of Fred G. Dupuis, Arno Rayner and Mrs. Stanley Peterson was appointed to select his successor.

Jail Term In Pornography Case Starts

Donald D. Kistler Jr., 35-year-old former San Rafael newsstand operator, began serving a 90-day jail term last night for having obscene pictures in his newsstand in January, 1958.

He was convicted last October and sentenced by Judge Harold J. Haley to three years probation on condition he serve 90 days in jail, or 45 days jail plus $375 fine. This sentence was held up, pending an appeal by Kistler.

All the appeals were turned down. Kistler appeared yesterday before Judge Haley with his attorney, Albert M. Bendich of San Francisco. Bendich asked the judge to vacate the jail term because Kistler now has a "highly reputable job" and the jail term would impair his effort to rehabilitate and earn a decent living.

But Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich demanded the jail term, pointing out that Federal Bureau of Investigation Director J. Edgar Hoover has said that heavier sentences serve as a strong deterrent to the pornography trade. The question is whether pornography is to be winked at in this county, declared Weissich.

Judge Haley ruled that nothing has changed since the sentence was imposed last October.

Little Rock, Ark., was first named by French explorer Bernard de la Harpe as "La Petite Roche."

D. H. LAWRENCE BOOK IS HELD NOT OBSCENE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Federal Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan ruled today that the original version of "Lady Chatterley's Lover" is not obscene.

Judge Bryan ruled that last month's order by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield banning the unexpurgated edition of the D. H. Lawrence book from the mails is illegal and void.

He said he would sign an order at noon tomorrow lifting the ban.

"To exclude this book from the mails on the grounds of obscenity would fashion a rule which could be applied to a substantial portion of the classics of our literature," Judge Bryan's opinion said.

More Dogs Given Shots In Kentfield

Fifty-nine dogs were vaccinated against rabies at the seventh public dog vaccination clinic of the Marin County Health Department in Kentfield last night. This brought the total of clinic vaccinations this year to 630.

The next clinic will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the county firehouse in Woodacre.

A charge of $1.75 is made for each dog. All dogs four months old or more must be vaccinated, but vaccinations given last year are still effective, hence the number of dogs treated this year is much smaller than at the start of the program last year.

Cycle Pins CHP Officer For 22 Hours

CONCORD (UPI)—A California Highway Patrolman was reported in "fair condition" at Community Hospital here today after spending 22 hours pinned under his motorcycle in a brushy canyon off Oakland's Skyline boulevard.

The patrolman, George Kallemeyn, 29, of Concord, was found by two fellow officers yesterday. He had been the object of an intensive search after he failed to report when his shift ended Sunday.

Kallemeyn was found by William Jory and David Windecker after 100 searchers had covered 500 miles of roads in the area. Kallemeyn suffered shock, two broken ribs, and possible spinal and leg injuries.

Capt. Russell Magill of the CHP said Kallemeyn had plunged off a steep trail that is used by East Bay cyclists to test their machines. Magill said he planned to find out what Kallemeyn was doing there.

"I don't know of a project that we have done that has not had considerable disapproval," David Allen said. "We cannot please all of the people. This development is the culmination of 20 years of thought and engineering study and we plan to make it as attractive as possible."

Two requests for resubdivision of lots and the accepting of Eucalyptus avenue into the city street system were tabled.

Cycle Pins CHP Officer For 22 Hours

CONCORD (UPI)—A California Highway Patrolman was reported in "fair condition" at Community Hospital here today after spending 22 hours pinned under his motorcycle in a brushy canyon off Oakland's Skyline boulevard.

The patrolman, George Kallemeyn, 29, of Concord, was found by two fellow officers yesterday. He had been the object of an intensive search after he failed to report when his shift ended Sunday.

Kallemeyn was found by William Jory and David Windecker after 100 searchers had covered 500 miles of roads in the area. Kallemeyn suffered shock, two broken ribs, and possible spinal and leg injuries.

Capt. Russell Magill of the CHP said Kallemeyn had plunged off a steep trail that is used by East Bay cyclists to test their machines. Magill said he planned to find out what Kallemeyn was doing there.

BIGGER AND BETTER MEADOW PARK SCHOOL

Work began last week to rehabilitate the five-classroom Meadow Park School at Hamliton Air Force Base and add 10 new classrooms, a multi-purpose room, library and offices. Before construction begins the site must be cleared of 22 buildings. The whole project, including equipment, will cost about $541,500, said Phillip W. Schneider, superintendent of San Jose School District. Completion date is February, 1960. The contractor is W. J. Kubon Co. of San Rafael. This sketch was prepared by the firm of Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics, San Francisco architects, who designed the addition.

Loma Verde Plan Changes Passed

Amendments to the Loma Verde master plan in both residential and commercial aspects were approved yesterday afternoon by the Marin County Planning Commission.

Two parcels comprising 148 and 61 acres were changed from single-family residential zoning to multiple residential use of garden apartment type.

EARLIER EFFORT

The 148-acre area is well known because an earlier unsuccessful effort was made to turn it into a cemetery, arousing strong objections.

The commission decided to allow only a part of a 19-acre area to go over to commercial use, this section being eight and one-half acres north of San Jose boulevard.

Of the remainder, two and one-half acres will be used for road and eight acres will remain residential-zoned.

MORE DWELLING

Action was taken in line with a report by Mrs. Mary Summers, planning director, who estimated that commercial needs of the community could be met by the amount the commissioners decided to rezone. New residential plans, she said, will raise Loma Verde to perhaps 3,800 dwelling units.

An application for use permits for a service station and market building in the Marinwood Shopping Center was approved by the commission.

Rolland B. Hammond, architect for Hoytt Enterprises, the developer, asked that bond not be required and the commission decided that the purpose of bond could be met by dedicational of use until there was full compliance with plan.

A tentative map of Melody Manor Unit 1, an eight and one-half acre subdivision of 28 lots in Novato, was approved by the commission subject to minor conditions of a staff report.

The commission continued to its next meeting, Aug. 3, as tentative map of Oakwood Valley Estates, 17 acres being subdivided by Leo Epp in Tamalpais Valley. The continuance had been requested by the applicant.

2,000 M.P.H. PLANES IN WORKS FOR AF

LOS ANGELES (AP)—North American Aviation is developing two planes for the Air Force that will fly more than 2,000 miles an hour at 70,000 feet.

The highly secret planes are the B70 Valkyrie bomber and the F108 Rapier interceptor, both powered with jet engines.

The F108 is expected to be ready in the early 1960s, with the B70 due about 18 months later. Both planes will be short-winged

Planners Leery Of Identical Street Names

Marin County planners squinted into the not-too-distant future yesterday afternoon and discerned a day when we'll all be one big family.

This came up because the folk in Tiburon wanted to change the name of Hilary drive to Tioga. The Marin County Planning Commission staff had found that there's already a Tioga in Ignacio.

While today the limits of Tiburon-on-peninsula seem remote from those of Ignacio 'way up Highway 101, the staff reasoned that before we know it they may both be part of a single city. And then what of the postman?

"No street names should be repeated within the county," said David Van Pelt of the staff, firmly endorsing the thought of setting up permanent policy on the point.

Commission members saw it the same way and postponed decision on what about Hilary until there could be further discussion with Tiburon residents. Van Pelt said the staff is getting up a list of names of streets in incorporated as well as unincorporated areas with a view to heading off any more conflicts.

Planners Reaffirm Stand On Apartments

Two votes by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday afternoon reaffirmed previous views that construction of apartment projects should be deferred until changes in the county apartment zoning ordinance have been worked out.

In each instance the county board of supervisors had voted to refer the matter back to the planners on the theory that construction should not be held up. Now the supervisors will decide finally.

One proposal involves eventual outlay of two million dollars opposite Hamilton Air Force Base west of Highway 101, where Adeline Bianchi and associates wish to start with a triangular 30-unit building.

The other proposal, by Alfred Bellucci, Novato real estate broker, would put a building of 12 to 15 units with swimming pool on a 20,000-square foot site on the east side of South Novato boulevard just north of Yukon way.

Having earlier voted 2-2 on the Bianchi project, denying the apartment under present zoning, the planners yesterday denied it again though this time 3-2 in its favor. Four affirmative votes are required for approval.

In the case of the Bellucci proposal, the planners were unanimous in voting to return it to the supervisors.

As no new plans or proposals had been received for the Mariner Oaks master plan, the commissioners voted to continue it once more.

Way Seems Clear For Closing End Of Watt

Barring any unforeseen difficulties, San Rafael City councilmen see no reason why the westerly end of Watt avenue cannot be abandoned and closed so Coleman School can be expanded.

Mayor John F. McInnis last night suggested that school authorities proceed with their plan to use about 600 feet of Watt avenue.

Roderick P. Martinelli, representing the school board, and Mrs. Charles Strom from the Coleman School parents' committee asked for closing of Watt avenue so Coleman School can be expanded, instead of being split up into two different schools to meet the increasing enrollment.

In addition to Watt avenue, the school district will need 40 or 50 feet more land from Dominican Convent. Martinelli said his committee will meet with Dominican officials tomorrow morning to negotiate for the added strip of land.

Mrs. Strom presented a letter signed by all six owners of property fronting Watt avenue, indicating they are willing to have the street closed.

If all property owners agree to the closing there seem to be no other legitimate objectors, City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw said.

San Rafael Council Opens Bids On Lincoln Extension

Lincoln avenue in San Rafael can be extended from Second street across the Little League field to Irwin street at a cost of $73,772.

That was the lowest of five bids opened last night by the San Rafael City Council. But the contract was not awarded immediately to the low bidder, Ghilotti Brothers, Inc., of San Rafael, because acquisition of the right of way for the extension has not been cleared. As soon as the right of way question is resolved, Mayor John F. McInnis indicated he plans to call a meeting to award the contract and get the job started.

Other bidders for the job were: O. C. Jones and Son of Berkeley, $75,212; Lee Mac Paving Co. of Corte Madera, $75,623; E. A. Forde Co. of Corte Madera, $79,721, and C and H Contractors, Inc., of Richmond, $86,312.

The engineer's estimate of the cost was $87,130.

Owners of property that will front the new road extension have indicated they would donate land for a 40-foot right of way, and pay for paving and sidewalk for about half of the extension. But exactly how the cost would be divided between the city and property owners has not been determined.

City Engineer Dominic Selmi said he plans to call a meeting as soon as possible between the property owners and city officials to reach a cost-sharing agreement.

Marin Roads To Be Toured, Discussed

Marin County highways will be inspected and discussed by representatives of the state Division of Highways and the California State Chamber of Commerce on Aug. 4.

After a tour there will be a 4 p.m. meeting in the supervisors' chambers of the courthouse with county supervisors, road commissioner, city authorities and chamber of commerce representatives.

The field trip and session are to observe and discuss state highway development needs of Marin and report on highway construction as well as state and federal legislation affecting all highways of California.

Putting telephone know-how to work for national defense

New phone network adds lightning punch to the nation's defenses

Phone lines today are speeding up the nation's air defense by making it act almost automatically. The lines are nerves of a new system called SAGE. With faster speed than ever, these lines flash signals from wide-spread radar outposts into SAGE control centers. There, the signals feed into computers that instantly tell Air Forcemen what's in the air and where it is.

Then, in a fraction of the time it once took, the men can use SAGE's phone lines to order jet aircraft or missiles skyward. Telephone people are fast completing SAGE's nerve system as part of our role in National Defense. And we'll watch over it with care — watch to see that it's always working for your safety and security.

Putting telephone know-how to work for national defense

New phone network adds lightning punch to the nation's defenses

Phone lines today are speeding up the nation's air defense by making it act almost automatically. The lines are nerves of a new system called SAGE. With faster speed than ever, these lines flash signals from wide-spread radar outposts into SAGE control centers. There, the signals feed into computers that instantly tell Air Forcemen what's in the air and where it is. Then, in a fraction of the time it once took, the men can use SAGE's phone lines to order jet aircraft or missiles skyward. Telephone people are fast completing SAGE's nerve system as part of our role in National Defense. And we'll watch over it with care — watch to see that it's always working for your safety and security.

Orchids To Supervisors For Park Purchase Funds

Sometimes our local governments remind us of a "one hoss shay" with everything in danger of collapsing at once.

Our roads, our schools, our public buildings and almost everything else we can think of need more money for repair, maintenance, expansion, remodeling, or some such. With our population growth, we are hard pressed to provide local governmental services for our rapidly expanding communities.

No wonder there is a squeeze every time budget matters are considered. No wonder tax bills in the aggregate go only one way—up.

Conservation of recreation areas is essential. If they aren't tied down now, they will be developed commercially or as residential areas in time to come so that future generations will forever be deprived of enjoying them in their natural state.

It is difficult, with all the budget pressures described previously, to arouse much enthusiasm for spending tax money to buy recreation areas.

But from the long range point of view, such spending may be the most important thing we of our generation can do.

With all this in mind, it is remarkable that our Marin Board of Supervisors was able to earmark $20,000 this year for county park acquisition.

It's true that $20,000 is but a drop in the bucket. But it is a start and in time of budget squeeze we can be properly grateful that the "drop" was provided.

The county recreation committee has listed as desirable for acquisition certain sites including ones at the former Tiburon Naval Net Depot, Tomales Bay shore, Bolinas Mesa Beach, Bolinas Beach, Inverness Ridge, Petaluma Creek and Gallinas Creek.

All these are worthy. We think old Paradise Cove Park and McNear's Beach likewise worthy. We were a bit disappointed that they were not included on the first priority list prepared by the committee.

Be that as it may, a start has been made.

A BEQUEST FOR GOVERNMENT

Few people would think of leaving a bequest to the U. S. Government when they make their wills. But one 75-year-old lady, a Russian immigrant, did just that. She bequeathed $60,000 to the "Treasury of the United States of America."

A savings bank official said that about a year before her death, she had asked him as a personal favor to serve as the executor of her estate.

"She told me at that time," the banker said, "that she intended to leave her money to the Government, because this country had treated her well and she wanted to show her appreciation."

Gratitude is a virtue pleasing to both God and man. Cicero said: "Gratitude is not only the greatest of virtues, but the parent of all others."

Seek ways of your own to express your appreciation for the blessings of freedom. Instead of belaboring the human defects of government, focus attention on its accomplishments and strive to strengthen what is weak.

Marlon Brando Wants To Do Film On U.N., But Lacks Script Yet

NEW YORK (AP) — Marlon Brando is anxious to do a film about the United Nations.

"But so far we haven't been able to come up with the right script," he said.

"I was impressed by the fact that people all over the world had given up good jobs to go to work for peanuts for the United Nations on its technical assistance projects," he said.

"I'd like to do a story that would allow people access to information about the U.N., which I feel by and large has been overlooked. But it would have to be a picture vital and interesting enough to make people want to see it. Otherwise, it would be shown only in church basements."

Brando, who has played everything from a rebellious longshoreman to Napoleon, has the role of a wandering guitarist in his 13th film, "The Fugitive Kind," co-starring Anna Magnani and Joanne Woodward.

Marlon, who has trimmed down 15 pounds on a high-protein diet, still retains a glacial silence about his personal life. But during a short rehearsal break in his dressing room he was quite willing to talk about the international situation. It is much on his mind.

"I think that, sooner or later, we are bound to have a world federation of states—a world government. Economic facts can't be ignored much longer.

It is my theory that world wars result from a multitude of civil wars within each individual.

"The thing that I hate most —that frightens me most — is the indifference and blind acceptance of the destructive impulses in people.

"When people cannot find a way somehow to resolve their own innate aggressiveness then they combine with other individuals, groups and movements and attack a symbol they call the enemy.

"BUT THE ENEMY is simply their own unconscious projections symbolized by a racial, religious or economic issue. Or they may simply be against people with red hair or people who are cruel to their goldfish."

The result, Brando feels, is war, if no way is found to channel these mass hostilities safely.

But he believes the atom bomb is the world's best hope for peace:

"IF A MAN — or a statesman — feels that something of himself will live on — his principles or his children — he is willing to die for the preservation of what he believes in.

"But when he knows that he will die and nothing will be left — no one will remain to mourn his sacrifice, appreciate his heroism or carry on his principles — then he is bound to give a second thought about going to war.

"That is the singular change the atom bomb has made."

When she went to pick up her arrangement it was gone. The theme of her exhibit was "Story Time." In it she used a story book doll wearing a hand crocheted dress holding a miniature white Bible. Also used were 4 "frogs" holding an array of white petunias, pom pom zinnias etc. The bowl was glazed pottery, fluted edge, exterior white, interior turquoise, 2½" high 12" in diameter.

Levit's Counsel Will Be Missed Now That He's Leaving Capitol

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A lot of California taxpayers — excluding city officials of Hayward—may find it regrettable that the first major resignation from the administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown is that of Bert W. Levit, Director of Finance.

Levit, engrossed for most of his seven months in the office with the state's new budget and Gov. Brown's tax program, had few chances to deal directly with the public. But a recent example—a seven-hour-long hearing over a state college site in southern Alameda County—was a rare treat for veteran capitol observers.

The end of the hearing found the three-man Public Works Board, each appointed by the governor, on different sides of the question. Significantly, Levit voted against the two other members and, presumably, against the governor, who was responsible for the meeting in the first place.

THE BOARD previously had accepted a college site at Pleasanton. It had studied and viewed more than 30 sites before narrowing the search to half a dozen and finally selecting the Pleasanton property.

But Governor Brown (who has said he doesn't believe in interfering with his commissions) prevailed upon the Board to reconsider adoption of the Pleasanton site by reopening the hearing. The governor had been convinced by Hayward officials they had new information concerning sites.

Came last week's hearing and Hayward presented two of the same old sites which previously had been rejected. One of the reasons for reopening the hearing had been an offer by Hayward to donate half of its 700-acre airport, free of charge, for the new college.

It developed quickly at the hearing that the airport was not available and could not be considered seriously. This left the distinct impression that the Hayward officials were: (1) playing a bit fast and loose with their city's welfare and economy by offering to abandon one of the most important airports in the nation; or (2) offering the proposed airport donation merely as a ruse to have the site selection hearings reopened.

Whatever their motives, Governor Brown went along, as did the other two Brown-appointed Board members, Robert Bradford, Director of Public Works, and Wayne Savage, Real Estate Commissioner.

Although the property finally selected, in Hayward, was surrounded by industrial development, with a potential for much more, and the owner was most unwilling to let his undeveloped property go for a college when it would be more valuable as an industrial site, the decision, nevertheless, was made by Bradford and Savage.

LEVIT MADE a statement of about 30 minutes in which he touched upon a number of matters not common to the ordinary run-of-the-mill state officials.

On the point of the unwilling seller, Levit observed:

"There is too much of a tendency on the part of public officials—both state and local—to disregard the interests of property owners and taxpayers in condemning land for schools or state uses."

The counsel of Levit, a Republican, may be missed in the future years of the Brown administration.

One of the research editors finally decided to take her out to a ball game, and then for a big Italian dinner. "The kid looks half starved," he explained. He never got her past the Yankee Stadium, however. She was wearing a new beige dress, and every time the editor turned his head, the bat boy handed her to Mickey Mantle!

Old Familiar Faces Disappearing From Many Marin Police Stations

First two changes were brought about by election of Lou Mountanos, Sausalito chief, as sheriff. He took along with him to the courthouse Eugene Meyer, chief in Belvedere. Result: Howard Goerndt stepped up to chief in Sausalito, and Bill Woodington in Belvedere.

Then Frank Kelly was defeated for re-election as San Rafael police chief, being replaced by Charles Chiesa.

And on Aug. 1, Don Wood will bid farewell to the San Anselmo City Hall and 38-year-old Ray Buchignani will become chief.

Mountanos and Meyer had been only a few years in their jobs. But Frank Kelly had served 16 years as chief in San Rafael. And Don Wood has been chief in San Anselmo since 1930. As a matter of fact, he's the only police chief the Hub City has ever had; before he took over, the job was that of city marshal.

A RETIREMENT plan for city employees puts Wood out to pasture. He's not a bit sorry about it. He has been urging the retirement plan for years, and repeatedly has told the city council "I'll retire as soon as you give me a pension." He'll make good on that on the first day on which retirement is possible under the new plan — first Hub City employee to take advantage of it.

Incidentally, there are almost three decades difference in age between Wood and the man who will succeed him.

Still very much on the job, though, with no announced thought of retiring, is the senior police chief of all in Marin: Andy Peri in Fairfax.

Peri became the one-man Fairfax police department in 1924. He's headed the department ever since.

Also still in the saddle are three other longtime veterans, Jim McGowan in Mill Valley, Howard Clark in Larkspur and Joe Regoni in Ross. And still very much on the job is the county's only double chief: Frank Nelson, who heads both police and fire departments in Corte Madera.

JORDAN MARTINELLI JR. prevented a showdown over the city manager in San Anselmo by going on vacation in Bolinas at just the right time.

Carmel Booth, arch-foe of city managers and perennial winner on council elections in the Hub City, returned to work at city hall after convalescing from a sinus operation, with fire in her eye. The time had come, she said, to get rid of City Manager Art Brewer, because he had led the council into a position where it must hike the tax rate from $1.20 to perhaps as much as $1.65 per $100 assessed valuation.

Mayor Art Smith, also disturbed over an impending tax rate hike, and with an eye on his race for re-election next April, reportedly was ready to go along with Mrs. Booth in voting to fire the manager.

WILL CORTE MADERA councilmen look more favorably on calling an election for merger with Larkspur because of new population figures announced by the State Department of Finance?

The department last week reported Corte Madera has increased to a population of 5,300. That would make it larger than Larkspur. And if it is larger than Larkspur, it would become the "consolidating city" in event of a merger election.

The "consolidating city," theoretically, could preserve its name as that of the new city created by merger.

Larkspur's Mayor Dan Allen says he doesn't care what name the merged city has.

But, he says, the name shouldn't be either Larkspur or Corte Madera.

Congress Must Face Up To Farm Problem And Provide Solutions

WASHINGTON —This 86th Congress has yet to get up a real head of steam to deal with the most critical, perilous, unresolved domestic problem facing the United States.

I refer to the absolute necessity of doing something constructive and soon to put the present unworkable farm program on a realistic basis and to avert—before it is too late to prevent disaster for everybody, including the farmers — a breakdown of the whole price-support house of cards.

IN MANY WAYS the nation's lagging defense program and the massive, unworkable, mounting farm subsidy could well be looked at together.

The fact is that we are not spending enough on defense and are spending too much on an agricultural program which isn't doing the job—and every month is getting worse.

From Henry Wallace to Ezra Benson, every Secretary of Agriculture, with the single exception of Charles Brannan, agrees that mandatory, high, rigid price supports are incompatible with the facts of modern agriculture.

The present level of price supports inevitably encourages, lures, and pays more farmers to grow more produce which cannot be sold in the markets and which the government (which means all of us) buys at fixed prices. And we spend $1 billion a year to handle and store the surplus.

UNDER THE "farm bank" plan the government pays farmers to take acreage out of production. But does this reduce over-production? Does this cut down the growing of crops which can't be sold anywhere but to the government? Does this curtail the massive farm subsidy?

The answer is "no" to every one of these questions. The reason is that American farmers are so efficient, scientific, so skillful, that every time they reduce acreage they find ways of producing more on fewer acres in order to take advantage of the government's high, fixed price supports. One single fact illustrates how this is possible. In 1940 each farm worker could produce enough to meet the needs of 10.7 persons. Today, through scientific advance, he can produce enough to meet the needs of 25 persons. Average productivity of U.S. farmers has increased more since 1940 than in the previous 120 years.

AND WHERE IS this scientific skill plus mandatory high fixed price supports taking us? Well, hold on to your seats, because here is where we are heading: the government has a current investment in farm surpluses of $8.8 billion and if something solid isn't done to rectify the policy and reverse the trend, we will have $12 billion invested in these surpluses by 1963. And by June, 1961, the yearly cost of just storing these surplusses will be $1.4 billion or the staggering sum of $3.8 million per day.

I agree with Secretary Benson, who said in a recent speech at Cornell that both parties share the blame for the mess we are in, but I suggest that the party which as a whole resists rectifying it now will almost certainly be penalized at the polls in 1960.

Building within the incorporated cities of Marin County hit an all-time record high in the first five months of 1939 when permits were issued for a total of 99 new homes and $675,800 in new construction. San Anselmo topped the list with 38 new residences.

The new girl in the typists' pool at a big magazine office was cute as a button, but painfully thin. One of the research editors finally decided to take her out to a ball game, and then for a big Italian dinner. "The kid looks half starved," he explained. He never got her past the Yankee Stadium, however. She was wearing a new beige dress, and every time the editor turned his head, the bat boy handed her to Mickey Mantle!

"Oh, we split up some time ago," was the answer. "Now she's living in Boston and San Diego."

Congress Must Face Up To Farm Problem And Provide Solutions

WASHINGTON —This 86th Congress has yet to get up a real head of steam to deal with the most critical, perilous, unresolved domestic problem facing the United States.

I refer to the absolute necessity of doing something constructive and soon to put the present unworkable farm program on a realistic basis and to avert—before it is too late to prevent disaster for everybody, including the farmers — a breakdown of the whole price-support house of cards.

IN MANY WAYS the nation's lagging defense program and the massive, unworkable, mounting farm subsidy could well be looked at together.

The fact is that we are not spending enough on defense and are spending too much on an agricultural program which isn't doing the job—and every month is getting worse.

From Henry Wallace to Ezra Benson, every Secretary of Agriculture, with the single exception of Charles Brannan, agrees that mandatory, high, rigid price supports are incompatible with the facts of modern agriculture.

The present level of price supports inevitably encourages, lures, and pays more farmers to grow more produce which cannot be sold in the markets and which the government (which means all of us) buys at fixed prices. And we spend $1 billion a year to handle and store the surplus.

UNDER THE "farm bank" plan the government pays farmers to take acreage out of production. But does this reduce over-production? Does this cut down the growing of crops which can't be sold anywhere but to the government? Does this curtail the massive farm subsidy?

The answer is "no" to every one of these questions. The reason is that American farmers are so efficient, scientific, so skillful, that every time they reduce acreage they find ways of producing more on fewer acres in order to take advantage of the government's high, fixed price supports. One single fact illustrates how this is possible. In 1940 each farm worker could produce enough to meet the needs of 10.7 persons. Today, through scientific advance, he can produce enough to meet the needs of 25 persons. Average productivity of U.S. farmers has increased more since 1940 than in the previous 120 years.

AND WHERE IS this scientific skill plus mandatory high fixed price supports taking us? Well, hold on to your seats, because here is where we are heading: the government has a current investment in farm surpluses of $8.8 billion and if something solid isn't done to rectify the policy and reverse the trend, we will have $12 billion invested in these surpluses by 1963. And by June, 1961, the yearly cost of just storing these surplusses will be $1.4 billion or the staggering sum of $3.8 million per day.

I agree with Secretary Benson, who said in a recent speech at Cornell that both parties share the blame for the mess we are in, but I suggest that the party which as a whole resists rectifying it now will almost certainly be penalized at the polls in 1960.

Assessments Hit New State Mark

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The value of locally assessed property in California climbed to a record $23,773,286,367 after exemptions during the past year.

The state Board of Equalization released the new assessment figures yesterday, showing an all-time high total value of $25,232,825,025. All property is assessed locally except that owned by the utilities, which the state assesses.

Exemptions for tax purposes totaled $1,459,538,658, an increase of 3.29 per cent.

The total value after exemptions increased 5.86 per cent statewide.

Forest Fire Near Sonora Under Control

SONORA (AP)—The Stanislaus National Forest fire near Groveland 30 miles east of here was controlled late yesterday and outside fire-fighting crews were released as the big blaze burned itself out.

District Ranger Aldon Woultee at the Groveland ranger station said "she burned real hot" through 1,000 acres of brush and timber. The failure of predicted lightning storms to materialize yesterday enabled the more than 500 men on the lines to hold the fire within bounds.

This was despite a new blaze which broke out yesterday afternoon several miles away near the Columbia Boys Camp and which pulled more than 100 fire-fighters and three tanker planes away from the main blaze. It was quickly controlled.

Wuoltee estimated total damage at five million board feet of pine worth $70,000 plus fire-fighting costs of more than $75,000.

In Humboldt County far to the northwest two fires along the Garberville-Alderpoint road were reported under control.

Brown Signs Series Of Measures

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Jobless Californians unavailable for work because of a death in the family had assurance today they could still collect unemployment benefits.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed into law a bill by Assemblyman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco) which also covers persons unlawfully detained.

The legislation grew out of two cases in which a Los Angeles applicant was disqualified for benefits during a period when he was kidnaped, and a Bay Area applicant was deemed unavailable for work during the time he attended a funeral.

The governor also signed bills affecting:

Poultry: Provides that poultry may not have water content in excess of 4 per cent when sold, or any greater amount as may be fixed by the state Department of Agriculture.

Historical Areas: Permits cities to adopt regulations to protect special, historical or aesthetic areas or objects.

Butter: Prohibits sale of third or fourth grade butter to consumers, allows its sale in 30-pound or larger lots for cooking or baking only.

Loan Companies: Tightens the industrial loan company law, placing control under the corporations commissioner; prohibits loans to non-residents of California.

School Records: Allows inspection by parents of their children's cumulative record card during consultation with a teacher or other certified employee.

Highway Fund Measure Signed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's local governments will start collecting a share of the rent from unused highway lands next year, but they stand to lose a cut of federal aid funds.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed a bill yesterday providing for payment to the counties of 24 per cent of the rent collected on lands bought for use as highways but rented pending the start of construction.

Under the bill by Sen. Luther E. Gibson (D-Vallejo), the money may be used for any state purpose not prohibited by the constitution.

Brown said he'll pocket veto a bill by Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) freezing the present distribution of federal aid secondary road funds.

The counties now get 98½ per cent, and the state, with the bulk of the secondary roads, 1½ per cent.

The formula now reverts to 87½ per cent for the counties and 12½ per cent for the state.

More advertising money is spent in newspapers than any other medium in the United States. Next comes business mail, followed by television, radio and magazines.

Legal Point Raised On Assessments

A legal point was raised yesterday but remained unproved on the inventory assessments of two San Rafael manufacturing firms, both of whom supply items to federal government primary contractors.

The subcontractors are Bergman Manufacturing Co. and Dumont Corp. Both protested yesterday to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization, that they were illegally assessed on their inventories.

The legal question revolves around when the materials used for items to be delivered to a primary contractor of the U.S. government becomes government property, and as such, untaxable by local government.

Bergman Manufacturing Co. protested its assessment of $52,710 on inventory. The firm did not specify how much of this inventory was materials used for its federal government subcontract.

Dumont Corp., a plastics manufacturer, protested an inventory assessment of $43,020. The firm said only $15,630 should have been assessed.

Attorneys for the two San Rafael firms claimed these raw materials became government property as soon as they were alloted to fulfill their subcontracts.

ASSESSOR ADVISED

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan had advised County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel to assess the inventories unless the two firms could produce terms in their contracts stating that the raw materials were federal government property.

Jordan told the supervisors yesterday that no contractual evidence had been produced so far. He said the Hughes aircraft concern in Southern California had a Defense Department contract that provided as soon as the company received partial payment, the materials allocated for a job became government property.

Jordan said the two San Rafael firms could get taxes refunded on their inventory assessments later if they had paid under protest and evidence is produced showing the assessment was illegal.

PROTESTS DENIED

The board of supervisors denied both protests.

There was no protest of the valuation placed on the inventories, just on the legality of the assessment.

The board of supervisors wound up assessment protest hearings at 7:30 p.m. yesterday but had some of the 302 protests still under advisement today.

Ark Dwellers, Sausalito Go Another Round

Sausalito and its ark dwellers fought another round yesterday in the complicated court battle to decide whether the arks must go.

Sausalito City Atty. John B. Ehlen accused ark dwellers of using various legal maneuvers and several lawyers to deliberately stall the proceedings. Theodore W. Rosenak of San Francisco, attorney for the ark dwellers, appeared before Judge Thomas F. Keating to try to get out from under a preliminary injunction that goes into effect Saturday. The injunction, in effect, orders the ark dwellers to hook up to an acceptable sewer disposal system or vacate their premises by July 25.

WILLING BUT CAN'T

Rosenak contends his clients are willing to hook up to the city sewer line, but the city won't let them. The city contends it cannot let ark dwellers hook up because the houseboats are on city property—Mono street.

Ehlen said he had heard the same "rigmarole" from another attorney two weeks before. "This is a continuous stall," he charged.

The judge denied Rosenak's motion to dismiss the temporary injunction. Rosenak then promptly filed for a writ of mandamus to force the city to allow ark dwellers to connect to sewers.

As of now, the order to connect up to or vacate will go into effect Saturday. But Rosenak said the city will have to bring contempt proceedings to oust the ark residents. This will be opposed on grounds the residents are not allowed to hook up to the city lines, said Rosenak.

ULTIMATUM STAGE

Sausalito's fight against Donlon J. Arques' three apartments at Marinship has also reached the ultimatum stage. Ehlen said the order to vacate went into effect last Saturday. He said he will ask police to check to see whether the order has been carried out.

Ehlen announced today that Robert G. Barteau, one of the original Mono street defendants and owner of the Phoenix, had voluntarily decided to conform to the city's order and to cease any resistance.

"It was after he visited one of the neighbor's houses," Ehlen related, "that he changed his mind. He was almost overcome by the foul air in the place."

Novato Clerk Winner Of $1,000 Prize

Novato drug store clerk Dorothy Hayter, who "never even won so much as a cupie doll at the beach," today is $1,000 richer after being presented the grand prize in the two-week-long Treasure Days sales event sponsored by Novato merchants.

"It's all going right back to the merchants who donated it," said the winner, who lives at 7370 Redwood highway. "I'm going to pay bills with it."

The sales promotion was a definite boon to Novato business, secretary George Marshall of the Novato Chamber of Commerce said. As many as 380,000 tickets were distributed to merchants, who passed them on to customers.

Classes In Dancing Set In San Rafael

LONGER NOTICE

Marin City School Option Pact Revised

Tamalpais Union High District's option agreement for purchase of a high school site in Marin City was revised last night by the district board.

The change requires that the district give the Marin County Housing Authority six months notice instead of 60 days to vacate the site before start of school construction.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle was authorized, subject to approval by the county counsel, to permit continued occupancy by the housing authority beyond 1962 if the district is not ready to build then. The authority maintains several housing units on a corner of the site.

Harold M. Engle, San Rafael structural engineer, will be asked to make periodic inspections of improvements being constructed in the vicinity of the site. Trustee Howard I. McGill said the Marin City redevelopment work affects the proposed school property.

The board also instructed Carlisle to hire a certified public accountant to insure equitable distribution of improvement costs between the district and the authority.

Trustees also:

1. Approved publication of the district's preliminary 1959-60 budget of $3,346,197. The total is slightly higher than that previously approved, reflecting additional state revenue to be received next year. But Frank Cassou, director of business services, termed it "basically the same budget which the board has discussed on numerous occasions." A public hearing on the budget will be held Aug. 3 at 8 p.m.
2. Authorized employment of David H. Teather of Tiburon as inspector for the job of rehabilitating three Tamalpais High School buildings. He will be paid $250 per month.
3. Awarded Russel Ernest Baum of Philadelphia a $3,052.40 contract for furnishing a folding machine for the Tam high print shop. Baum was the only bidder.
4. Referred to Carlisle, for awarding of contracts, bids for a tractor-loader, a station wagon, language laboratory equipment and painting the exteriors of two buildings at Sir Francis Drake High School and one at Tam High.

Terra Lindans To See Plans For Rec Center

A large turnout is expected by directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District at their meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at Christ Presbyterian Church in Terra Linda when architects' drawings of a proposed $350,000 recreation development will be unveiled.

Within the last week opposition to the directors' proposed bond election on Sept. 15 has begun to emerge. Members of the opposing Terra Linda Home Owners Committee have announced they will attend the meeting.

The plans for an expanded community center building, a swimming pool, children's play area, a turf field and tennis courts have been prepared by San Francisco architects Royston, Hanomoto and Mayes.

Brown Signs Fire Inspection Bill

SACRAMENTO (UP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday announced signing of legislation requiring yearly fire inspection of all school buildings in counties of over 220,000 population.

Inspection will be made by the state Fire Marshal's office under the bill by the late Assemblyman Seth Johnson (D-Los Angeles).

Brown also signed three bills by Sen. Walter Stiern (D-Bakersfield) requiring school districts to tie in their retirement systems for non-teachers with the federal social security program. Los Angeles schools are exempt.

3 Insurance Men Going To New York

Taking part as delegates in the centennial celebration of Equitable Life Assurance Society next week in New York will be John C. Stickney, Mill Valley district manager, Alan Birch of Sausalito and John Hourihan of Fairfax.

Stickney and Hourihan will be accompanied by their wives and plan to spend some time vacationing in the East before returning.

San Rafael City Finance Health Reported Sound

San Rafael is in sound financial health in the operation of both the city government and the parking district.

Thfs was revealed in year-end financial statements presented to the city council by City Clerk W. L. Morgan last night.

The city showed a cash balance at the end of last month of $1,022,897, which has been distributed to the general city fund and for special purposes fund.

INTEREST EARNED

In addition to the regular revenues, Morgan and Tax Collector Angelina Soldavini invested inactive city funds during the year to earn more than $12,000 in interest for the city.

The parking district statement shows a gross revenue of $64,834 for the past fiscal year. After deducting operation expenses and bond requirements, the fund shows a net balance of $17,430.

The city clerk pointed out that parking meter revenues are more than paying for bond redemption and cost and the financial picture is very healthy.

COMMEND PAIR

In other action, the city fathers:

1. Awarded contracts for road materials to Camgros Gravel and Fuel Co., Basalt Rock Co., Hutchinson Co. and McPhail.
2. Contracted with Mark-A-Line Inc. to take care of the street striping needs for the fiscal year.
3. Amended the city zoning ordinance to clarify the measuring of building height. The present zoning ordinance conflicts with the Uniform Building Code.
4. Set for Aug. 3 public hearing on rezoning of land for a medical building on First street at Miramar avenue. Julius J. Frnjak has asked his property be rezoned from duplex to multiple zoning.
5. Hired two engineers and a patrolman. Robert Bartram, junior engineer, will get $550 per month; William W. Dawson, junior civil engineer, $524 and Larry Lee Price, patrolman, $398.

MILLER PROJECT DISCUSSED

Tam High Not Holding Up Job, Says Trustee

Trustee Howard I. McGill of Tamalpais Union High School District said last night he is "sick and tired" of hearing the district accused of thwarting the proposed improvement of Miller avenue in Mill Valley.

Speaking at a meeting of the district board, McGill indicated the finger of blame was being pointed by Mill Valley officials.

'SICK AND TIRED'

"I am sick and tired of hearing that our district is holding up the development of that road," he declared.

He said the board has no intention of reneging on a long-standing offer to facilitate the road project by giving the city part of a former railroad right of way past Tamalpais High School.

"But," he added, "with the exception of a danger point where Miller avenue crosses the tracks, I don't think we should exceed our original unwritten agreement to give what is required, not to exceed 30 feet."

The district owns reversionary rights to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property adjacent to the school. The strip is 60 feet wide and more than 1,300 feet long. Part of it, including the traffic "danger point" mentioned by McGill, is in county territory.

ALMCRANTS' LETTER

McGill expressed dismay at a July 13 letter in which A. E. Almcrants, Mill Valley city manager, said no specific plan has been developed for the Miller avenue work.

This admission, said McGill, is significant in view of remarks that the district is holding up the project.

The city manager's letter went on to say it has "always been our thought, and we had presumed it was the idea of the high school board, to let the city have 30 feet" of the right of way.

McGill said the offer of up to 30 feet did not necessarily mean the city was to get half the entire strip. He noted that on the other side of the street there is undeveloped property which the city could condemn. (The school district plans to expand a Tam High athletic field into a portion of the old railroad right of way.)

McGill said the board's original intent was to help the city with its plans for a four-lane road.

"Now," he exclaimed, "we have not only a four-lane highway, but something down the middle, something on either side and, last but not least, a frontage road!"

Board chairman Delman D. Smith asked McGill to confer with Almcrants in another attempt to resolve the matter. Trustees Wallace W. Hayes and Edmund J. Thomas Jr. were absent.

Tam Players Will Extend Play's Run

Junior art summer classes will start at Wesley Hall in the Mill Valley Methodist Church on Sycamore and East Blithedale avenues, according to Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff, instructor.

Children from 4 to 9 years old are eligible to take the classes, which will be held from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays through Aug. 13.

Marin Boy Best Rider

Nine-year-old Mike Schinazi, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Schinazi Jr. of Legend road, Sleepy Hollow, rode his horse Tuffy to first place in the junior equitation contest Sunday at the Sonoma County Fair in Santa Rosa.

Only the day before, he had won a fourth place, also in junior equitation, in a Little League Polo Assn. competition at Burket Field in Golden Gate Park.

His brother Richard 3rd, 12, had taken a first in equitation as well as two seconds, in pinto pleasure and matched pairs, in the Golden Gate Park event.

The Sonoma fair will continue through Sunday.

Legal Point Raised On Assessments

A legal point was raised yesterday but remained unproved on the inventory assessments of two San Rafael manufacturing firms, both of whom supply items to federal government primary contractors.

The subcontractors are Bergman Manufacturing Co. and Dumont Corp. Both protested yesterday to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization, that they were illegally assessed on their inventories.

The legal question revolves around when the materials used for items to be delivered to a primary contractor of the U.S. government becomes government property, and as such, untaxable by local government.

Bergman Manufacturing Co. protested its assessment of $52,710 on inventory. The firm did not specify how much of this inventory was materials used for its federal government subcontract.

Dumont Corp., a plastics manufacturer, protested an inventory assessment of $43,020. The firm said only $15,630 should have been assessed.

Attorneys for the two San Rafael firms claimed these raw materials became government property as soon as they were alloted to fulfill their subcontracts.

ASSESSOR ADVISED

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan had advised County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel to assess the inventories unless the two firms could produce terms in their contracts stating that the raw materials were federal government property.

Jordan told the supervisors yesterday that no contractual evidence had been produced so far. He said the Hughes aircraft concern in Southern California had a Defense Department contract that provided as soon as the company received partial payment, the materials allocated for a job became government property.

Jordan said the two San Rafael firms could get taxes refunded on their inventory assessments later if they had paid under protest and evidence is produced showing the assessment was illegal.

PROTESTS DENIED

The board of supervisors denied both protests.

There was no protest of the valuation placed on the inventories, just on the legality of the assessment.

The board of supervisors wound up assessment protest hearings at 7:30 p.m. yesterday but had some of the 302 protests still under advisement today.

Ark Dwellers, Sausalito Go Another Round

Sausalito and its ark dwellers fought another round yesterday in the complicated court battle to decide whether the arks must go.

Sausalito City Atty. John B. Ehlen accused ark dwellers of using various legal maneuvers and several lawyers to deliberately stall the proceedings. Theodore W. Rosenak of San Francisco, attorney for the ark dwellers, appeared before Judge Thomas F. Keating to try to get out from under a preliminary injunction that goes into effect Saturday. The injunction, in effect, orders the ark dwellers to hook up to an acceptable sewer disposal system or vacate their premises by July 25.

WILLING BUT CAN'T

Rosenak contends his clients are willing to hook up to the city sewer line, but the city won't let them. The city contends it cannot let ark dwellers hook up because the houseboats are on city property—Mono street.

Ehlen said he had heard the same "rigmarole" from another attorney two weeks before. "This is a continuous stall," he charged.

The judge denied Rosenak's motion to dismiss the temporary injunction. Rosenak then promptly filed for a writ of mandamus to force the city to allow ark dwellers to connect to sewers.

As of now, the order to connect up to or vacate will go into effect Saturday. But Rosenak said the city will have to bring contempt proceedings to oust the ark residents. This will be opposed on grounds the residents are not allowed to hook up to the city lines, said Rosenak.

ULTIMATUM STAGE

Sausalito's fight against Donlon J. Arques' three apartments at Marinship has also reached the ultimatum stage. Ehlen said the order to vacate went into effect last Saturday. He said he will ask police to check to see whether the order has been carried out.

Ehlen announced today that Robert G. Barteau, one of the original Mono street defendants and owner of the Phoenix, had voluntarily decided to conform to the city's order and to cease any resistance.

"It was after he visited one of the neighbor's houses," Ehlen related, "that he changed his mind. He was almost overcome by the foul air in the place."

Novato Clerk Winner Of $1,000 Prize

Novato drug store clerk Dorothy Hayter, who "never even won so much as a cupie doll at the beach," today is $1,000 richer after being presented the grand prize in the two-week-long Treasure Days sales event sponsored by Novato merchants.

"It's all going right back to the merchants who donated it," said the winner, who lives at 7370 Redwood highway. "I'm going to pay bills with it."

The sales promotion was a definite boon to Novato business, secretary George Marshall of the Novato Chamber of Commerce said. As many as 380,000 tickets were distributed to merchants, who passed them on to customers.

Classes In Dancing Set In San Rafael

Four weeks of classes in classical ballet and stage tap dancing are scheduled to be held at the E Street School, San Rafael, it was announced today by representatives of the Belrose Dance Studio.

Classes will be held Mondays, 7 to 8:30 p.m., and Wednesdays, 2 to 3:30 p.m. Participants must be enrolled in the first grade or above.

LONGER NOTICE

Marin City School Option Pact Revised

Tamalpais Union High District's option agreement for purchase of a high school site in Marin City was revised last night by the district board.

The change requires that the district give the Marin County Housing Authority six months notice instead of 60 days to vacate the site before start of school construction.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle was authorized, subject to approval by the county counsel, to permit continued occupancy by the housing authority beyond 1962 if the district is not ready to build then. The authority maintains several housing units on a corner of the site.

Harold M. Engle, San Rafael structural engineer, will be asked to make periodic inspections of improvements being constructed in the vicinity of the site. Trustee Howard I. McGill said the Marin City redevelopment work affects the proposed school property.

The board also instructed Carlisle to hire a certified public accountant to insure equitable distribution of improvement costs between the district and the authority.

Trustees also:

1. Approved publication of the district's preliminary 1959-60 budget of $3,346,197. The total is slightly higher than that previously approved, reflecting additional state revenue to be received next year. But Frank Cassou, director of business services, termed it "basically the same budget which the board has discussed on numerous occasions." A public hearing on the budget will be held Aug. 3 at 8 p.m.
2. Authorized employment of David H. Teather of Tiburon as inspector for the job of rehabilitating three Tamalpais High School buildings. He will be paid $250 per month.
3. Awarded Russel Ernest Baum of Philadelphia a $3,052.40 contract for furnishing a folding machine for the Tam high print shop. Baum was the only bidder.
4. Referred to Carlisle, for awarding of contracts, bids for a tractor-loader, a station wagon, language laboratory equipment and painting the exteriors of two buildings at Sir Francis Drake High School and one at Tam High.

Terra Lindans To See Plans For Rec Center

A large turnout is expected by directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District at their meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at Christ Presbyterian Church in Terra Linda when architects' drawings of a proposed $350,000 recreation development will be unveiled.

Within the last week opposition to the directors' proposed bond election on Sept. 15 has begun to emerge. Members of the opposing Terra Linda Home Owners Committee have announced they will attend the meeting.

The plans for an expanded community center building, a swimming pool, children's play area, a turf field and tennis courts have been prepared by San Francisco architects Royston, Hanomoto and Mayes.

3 Insurance Men Going To New York

Taking part as delegates in the centennial celebration of Equitable Life Assurance Society next week in New York will be John C. Stickney, Mill Valley district manager, Alan Birch of Sausalito and John Hourihan of Fairfax.

Stickney and Hourihan will be accompanied by their wives and plan to spend some time vacationing in the East before returning.

Brown Signs Fire Inspection Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday announced signing of legislation requiring yearly fire inspection of all school buildings in counties of over 220,000 population.

Inspection will be made by the state Fire Marshal's office under the bill by the late Assemblyman Seth Johnson (D-Los Angeles).

Brown also signed three bills by Sen. Walter Stiern (D-Bakersfield) requiring school districts to tie in their retirement systems for non-teachers with the federal social security program. Los Angeles schools are exempt.

San Rafael City Finance Health Reported Sound

San Rafael is in sound financial health in the operation of both the city government and the parking district.

This was revealed in year-end financial statements presented to the city council by City Clerk W. L. Morgan last night.

The city showed a cash balance at the end of last month of $1,022,897, which has been distributed to the general city fund and for special purposes fund.

INTEREST EARNED

In addition to the regular revenues, Morgan and Tax Collector Angelina Soldavini invested inactive city funds during the year to earn more than $12,000 in interest for the city.

The parking district statement shows a gross revenue of $64,834 for the past fiscal year. After deducting operation expenses and bond requirements, the fund shows a net balance of $17,430.

The city clerk pointed out that parking meter revenues are more than paying for bond redemption and cost and the financial picture is very healthy.

COMMEND PAIR

In other action, the city fathers:

1. Awarded contracts for road materials to Camgros Gravel and Fuel Co., Basalt Rock Co., Hutchinson Co. and McPhail.
2. Contracted with Mark-A-Line Inc. to take care of the street striping needs for the fiscal year.
3. Amended the city zoning ordinance to clarify the measuring of building height. The present zoning ordinance conflicts with the Uniform Building Code.
4. Set for Aug. 3 public hearing on rezoning of land for a medical building on First street at Miramar avenue. Julius J. Frnjak has asked his property be rezoned from duplex to multiple zoning.
5. Hired two engineers and a patrolman. Robert Bartram, junior engineer, will get $550 per month; William W. Dawson, junior civil engineer, $524 and Larry Lee Price, patrolman, $398.

Record Series Cut Possibility Spurs Dodgers

Player Loot From Coliseum Gate May Set All-Time High

By INTERNATIONAL

The Dodgers are looking to louse up the Giants again and this time they have two of the strongest motives in the world—money and revenge.

Like all ball players, the Dodgers can count and most of them already have done some mental arithmetic as to how much a single share would come to if the World Series is played in Los Angeles' mammoth coliseum this fall.

There's little question that a World Series involving the Dodgers would set an all-time record for players' share, eclipsing the current mark established during the 1954 World Series between the Giants and Indians in which a winning share came to $11,147.90 and a losing share was worth $6,712.50.

REVENGE MOTIVE

Then there's a little matter of revenge, too. Last year, the Giants contributed most to the Dodgers' sorry seventh-place finish by beating them 16 out of 22 times. This year, though, things are a bit different.

The Dodgers scored their eighth victory in 15 games with the Giants so far when they defeated them, 3-2, yesterday to climb within 1½ games of the pace-setting San Franciscans.

Rookie Ernie Broglio pitched St. Louis into a fifth-place tie with Chicago by shutting out the Cubs on nine hits. Broglio struck out seven men and walked only two while registering his fourth victory and the fourth in a row for the upcoming Cardinals.

A.L. RACE RESUMES

After a day given over to traveling, the American League race resumes tonight with the first-place Indians entertaining the fourth-place Yankees at Cleveland.

Chicago will be looking to get back into first place with Dick Donovan (6-5), who is scheduled to go against Boston's Tom Brewer (7-6) at Comiskey Park.

The Baltimore Orioles, only 3½ games off the pace, invade Kansas City where Milt Pappas (10-4), is slated to tangle with the Athletics' knuckleballer, Bud Daley (9-6).

Washington, which has been playing fine ball and is only 2½ games away from the first division, meets the slumping sixth-place Tigers at Detroit. Bill Fischer (8-3) will go for the Senators and Don Mossi (7-4) will try to get Detroit back on the winning track again.

Giant Ace Blasts Park

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—If you want to get Johnny Antonelli sore, just mumble the name "Seals Stadium"—then head for the nearest bomb shelter.

"This is the worst park I ever pitched in," the San Francisco Giants' moody left hander groused yesterday after taking a 3-2 beating from the Los Angeles Dodgers. "A ballplayer should be paid double for playing here."

Antonelli had a reason to groan. He set down 21 batters in a row but, before and after that feat, gave up a two-run homer to Gil Hodges in the first inning and solo four-bagger to Charley Neal in the ninth that broke up the game.

FRIENDLY TAILWIND

Both blows were carried along by a friendly tailwind, Antonelli insisted.

"Two lousy fly balls!" he declared. "I don't mind getting beaten but when its like that it's a disgrace."

The loss cut San Francisco's lead over the second-place Dodgers to 1½ games. Manager Bill Rigney announced he would go with Sam Jones (13-9) this afternoon in the final game of the short hassle with the southlanders.

Antonelli looked great in defeat although pitching in what he described as a "30-mile-per-hour wind." But the old gopher ball caught up with him

Los Angeles took a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Jim Gilliam led off by walking and Hodges stroked his 18th homer of the campaign after two were out.

The Giants drew even in the second inning on the strength of three singles off winner Don Drysdale and a boot by shortstop Don Zimmer which let in an unearned run. Ed Bressoud drove one tally across with a hit to left center. The other came when Zimmer let Jim Davenport's hopper skid by him and Jackie Brandt raced across from second.

Antonelli, in the meantime, had given up a weird triple to Joe Pignatano which opened the second inning but then retired the next 21 men who came up.

LOST IN SHIRTS

To the amazement of a crowd of 22,777, Pignatano's three-bagger started out as a routine fly to left-fielder Brandt. Jackie stood transfixed as if he could catch the ball without moving, then suddenly gave chase when it struck the ground 20 feet behind him. Brandt said afterward that he had lost the ball against a background of white shirts.

"This was an important victory for us," big Don said in the dressing room. "I think we have as good a chance now as anyone to win the pennant."

Moore Summoned To Wife's Bedside

Mrs. Joan Moore underwent a five-hour operation last night for the removal of a non-malignant tumor in her inner-ear. The operation was described as a success and she was reported resting comfortably.

Dr. Kenneth Cales called Moore home from Montreal, telling him his wife's life "is at stake."

Cales has been treating Mrs. Moore for the past 10 days and had tentatively set surgery for today. But early yesterday, she took a turn for the worse, and he ordered her to surgery immediately.

"This is the worst thing that could happen," Moore told friends here by telephone before he flew from Montreal. "This is terrible. I've got to do right by my wife. It's no tough decision for me. I must be at my wife's side. If necessary, they'll have to set the fight back. There's no alternative but another postponement."

A decision on whether to set the rematch back is expected today. Manager Jack Kearns said he would talk to Archie before making any decision.

U.S.-Soviet Meets May Be Continued

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a fair chance that the United States and the Soviet Union will meet in a mammoth international track meet every non-Olympic year.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see this meet become a regular thing," said Pinky Sober today. He is head of the AAU's track and field committee and acted as referee of the meet last weekend in Philadelphia. "We have already had some exploratory talks."

Sober added that he was happy there were no embarrassing incidents like sign-carrying.

There are problems, though, and the main one is money. The AAU doesn't have the money to sponsor such events.

This year, the Philadelphia Inquirer picked up the tab and reports are that it came out about even. The total net was in the vicinity of $150,000. Another angel will have to be found if the series is to be continued.

Most of the coaches, especially the Soviets, would prefer to have a return engagement staged somewhere other than on the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field. The layout is 64 years old and the track has been pretty well chopped up by international standards.

Another thing Sober and Co. are going to have to live with—and they appear resigned to it—is that the Soviets are going to lump the men's and women's scores together. The AAU has it in writing that these are two separate events, but has taken the position of letting the Soviets have their fun.

That means that in the eyes of Moscow, the Soviets probably will win every meet, because it's doubtful if the American men can pile up enough points to make up for the competition-shy U. S. girls.

Deputy Sheriffs Edge Out Rivals In Sunday Shoot

The Marin County Police Center Fire Tournament, a monthly shoot, has developed into a redhot contest with the first four teams separated by but three points after Sunday's firing had ceased.

Both the Marin County Sheriff's Department and Tamalpais Rev Club team No. 2 fired 1,085's Sunday with the deputy sheriffs awarded first on the highest aggregate rapid fire. Their scores included Dave Menary 273, Ed Levine 272, Sid Weber 270, J. B. Mooney 270. All received gold medals.

In the individual timed fire match, 20 shots, Art Poganski, Kentfield, again won the open class title as he totalled 194 for 200.

The Class A winner was E. L. Johnson of Fairfax, 190 of 200, with Bruce Buxton, Hamilton Air Force Base, second, and Bill Roberts of the California Highway Patrol third. John Derosa of Novato was first in Class B, 163 of 200, and K. E. Hawkins, San Rafael, was second.

Aussie Davis Club Team Clears Hurdle

MEXICO CITY (AP)—It's away from the high altitude and into familiar grass court surroundings for the Australian Davis Cup team which now should easily make the challenge round against the United States. The Aussies hurdled the difficult Mexican barrier, 4-1.

120 Li'l League Players To See Giants In Action

One hundred and twenty Strawberry and Tiburon Peninsula Little Leaguers will attend the Giants-Philadelphia baseball game July 29 as guests of Walter Brice, owner of Brice Bros. store in Bel-Air, according to Strawberry League member Kenneth E. Rall.

Boys who sold 20 tickets or more to the recent Little League's brunch will receive two tickets and those who "showed cooperation and enthusiasm" in the fund-raising event will receive one. Brice has chartered two buses to leave the Bel-Air area at 11:45, Rall said.

Little Leaguer Smashes Four Homers In Game

Rodney Monti of the San Rafael Police Department team looked like a miniature Babe Ruth Sunday in the San Rafael National Little League when he hit four home runs in one game.

South PCL Stars Again Beat North

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — If last night's Pacific Coast League all-star game results have any bearing on what's ahead, Sacramento's Solons should be in fine shape.

Sac hurler Winston Brown paved the way as the South continued its domination of the event, topping the North here 5-2. Brown, the starter, received credit for the win and scored what proved to be the winning run after singling in the third inning.

Record Series Cut Possibility Spurs Dodgers

Player Loot From Coliseum Gate May Set All-Time High

By INTERNATIONAL

The Dodgers are looking to louse up the Giants again and this time they have two of the strongest motives in the world —money and revenge.

Like all ball players, the Dodgers can count and most of them already have done some mental arithmetic as to how much a single share would come to if the World Series is played in Los Angeles' mammoth coliseum this fall.

There's little question that a World Series involving the Dodgers would set an all-time record for players' share, eclipsing the current mark established during the 1954 World Series between the Giants and Indians in which a winning share came to $11,147.90 and a losing share was worth $6,712.50.

REVENGE MOTIVE

Then there's a little matter of revenge, too. Last year, the Giants contributed most to the Dodgers' sorry seventh-place finish by beating them 16 out of 22 times. This year, though, things are a bit different.

The Dodgers scored their eighth victory in 15 games with the Giants so far when they defeated them, 3-2, yesterday to climb within 1½ games of the pace-setting San Franciscans.

Rookie Ernie Broglio pitched St. Louis into a fifth-place tie with Chicago by shutting out the Cubs on nine hits. Broglio struck out seven men and walked only two while registering his fourth victory and the fourth in a row for the upcoming Cardinals.

A.L. RACE RESUMES

After a day given over to traveling, the American League race resumes tonight with the first-place Indians entertaining the fourth-place Yankees at Cleveland.

Chicago will be looking to get back into first place with Dick Donovan (6-5), who is scheduled to go against Boston's Tom Brewer (7-6) at Comiskey Park.

The Baltimore Orioles, only 3½ games off the pace, invade Kansas City where Milt Pappas (10-4), is slated to tangle with the Athletics' knuckleballer, Bud Daley (9-6).

Washington, which has been playing fine ball and is only 2½ games away from the first division, meets the slumping sixth-place Tigers at Detroit. Bill Fischer (8-3) will go for the Senators and Don Mossi (7-4) will try to get Detroit back on the winning track again.

Giant Ace Blasts Park

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—If you want to get Johnny Antonelli sore, just mumble the name "Seals Stadium"—then head for the nearest bomb shelter.

"This is the worst park I ever pitched in," the San Francisco Giants' moody left hander groused yesterday after taking a 3-2 beating from the Los Angeles Dodgers. "A ballplayer should be paid double for playing here."

Antonelli had a reason to groan. He set down 21 batters in a row but, before and after that feat, gave up a two-run homer to Gil Hodges in the first inning and solo four-bagger to Charley Neal in the ninth that broke up the game.

FRIENDLY TAILWIND

Both blows were carried along by a friendly tailwind, Antonelli insisted.

"Two lousy fly balls!" he declared. "I don't mind getting beaten but when its like that it's a disgrace."

The loss cut San Francisco's lead over the second-place Dodgers to 1½ games. Manager Bill Rigney announced he would go with Sam Jones (13-9) this afternoon in the final game of the short hassle with the southlanders.

Antonelli looked great in defeat although pitching in what he described as a "30-mile-per-hour wind." But the old gopher ball caught up with him

Los Angeles took a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Jim Gilliam led off by walking and Hodges stroked his 18th homer of the campaign after two were out.

The Giants drew even in the second inning on the strength of three singles off winner Don Drysdale and a boot by shortstop Don Zimmer which let in an unearned run. Ed Bressoud drove one tally across with a hit to left center. The other came when Zimmer let Jim Davenport's hopper skid by him and Jackie Brandt raced across from second.

Antonelli, in the meantime, had given up a weird triple to Joe Pignatano which opened the second inning but then retired the next 21 men who came up.

LOST IN SHIRTS

To the amazement of a crowd of 22,777, Pignatano's three-bagger started out as a routine fly to left-fielder Brandt. Jackie stood transfixed as if he could catch the ball without moving, then suddenly gave chase when it struck the ground 20 feet behind him. Brandt said afterward that he had lost the ball against a background of white shirts.

"This was an important victory for us," big Don said in the dressing room. "I think we have as good a chance now as anyone to win the pennant."

Moore Summoned To Wife's Bedside

Mrs. Joan Moore underwent a five-hour operation last night for the removal of a non-malignant tumor in her inner-ear. The operation was described as a success and she was reported resting comfortably.

Cales has been treating Mrs. Moore for the past 10 days and had tentatively set surgery for today. But early yesterday, she took a turn for the worse, and he ordered her to surgery immediately.

"This is the worst thing that could happen," Moore told friends here by telephone before he flew from Montreal. "This is terrible. I've got to do right by my wife. It's no tough decision for me. I must be at my wife's side. If necessary, they'll have to set the fight back. There's no alternative but another postponement."

A decision on whether to set the rematch back is expected today. Manager Jack Kearns said he would talk to Archie before making any decision.

U.S.-Soviet Meets May Be Continued

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a fair chance that the United States and the Soviet Union will meet in a mammoth international track meet every non-Olympic year.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see this meet become a regular thing," said Pinky Sober today. He is head of the AAU's track and field committee and acted as referee of the meet last weekend in Philadelphia. "We have already had some exploratory talks."

Sober added that he was happy there were no embarrassing incidents like sign-carrying.

This year, the Philadelphia Inquirer picked up the tab and reports are that it came out about even. The total net was in the vicinity of $150,000. Another angel will have to be found if the series is to be continued.

Most of the coaches, especially the Soviets, would prefer to have a return engagement staged somewhere other than on the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field. The layout is 64 years old and the track has been pretty well chopped up by international standards.

Another thing Sober and Co. are going to have to live with —and they appear resigned to it—is that the Soviets are going to lump the men's and women's scores together. The AAU has it in writing that these are two separate events, but has taken the position of letting the Soviets have their fun.

That means that in the eyes of Moscow, the Soviets probably will win every meet, because it's doubtful if the American men can pile up enough points to make up for the competition-shy U. S. girls.

Bill Rigney Sticks To Hunches, Defies Percentage Baseball

CONNOLLY

There are two Bill Rigneys today.

There is Bill Rigney who manages the S.F. Giants and there is Bill Rigney, once the bespectacled shortstop of the Oakland Club and the newest defamer of percentage baseball.

Yesterday the dual personality of Rigney came back to town after a helluva successful trip throughout the east and middle west, to defy his critics. He brought the Giants home in first place and in that respect he scurriously flaunts his style of play against his critics.

Bill Rigney has grown like a weed since I first met him. He cut quite a figure during the war days with the Giants as a player, and later, when he was sent to Minneapolis to manage the Giant farm team, and finally when he rose up and succeeded Leo Durocher.

MAYBE THAT IS the modern trend. But whatever it is, Rigney and the Giants are going to be home for a good spell, starting with a two-game series ending today with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

He started Eddie Fisher, a rookie, mind you, against the Pittsburgh Pirates as his opening gesture. He used him as relief against the same Club and only a few days he started Fisher again against the Pirates. Eddie responded by winning two of his three decisions against the dangerous Pirates.

RIGNEY'S thinking on Andre Rodgers puzzles me. Against the judgment of his best scouts, he tossed Eddie Bressoud into the dugout and almost smothered Eddie while Rodgers fumbled, jumbled and tumbled all over the lot.

And then when it was apparent to everybody, Rigney fell back on Bressoud to save the Giants and bring them into contention again.

I'm just wondering how long he's going to gamble on Felipe Alou, the outfielder with the speed of a gazelle and the power of an elephant.

BUT TODAY Alou is playing second fiddle to outfielders Jackie Brandt and Willie Kirkland, neither of whom possesses the potentialities of Alou.

Offensively Kirkland has been terrific. But in a defensive way he has cost the Giants many ball games, many more than he has won by his long wallop.

Alou in the outfield and either Landrith, Hegan or Schmidt, in my mind, present, Rigney's biggest problems for the rest of the way.

I'm just wondering which of the TWO RIGNEYS is going to win out before they ring down the curtain on the 1959 flag chase.

In the Bowl Larks League Friday Chuck Rothweiler, Dil Hughes and Joe Anselmo, all of Team 6, fired high series-games of 557-218, 553-210 and 547-205, respectively.

Crucial Double-Header In Softball League Tonight

A crucial double-header in the San Rafael Softball League will be played at Albert Park tonight with Sohner Tree Service (1-2) meeting Hamilton Field's 28th Air Division (2-1) in the 7:30 o'clock opener and Presidio Army Base (2-0) battling Novato Merchants (2-0) for first place in the 9:15 nightcap.

A Novato win would put the Merchants in great shape since they play hapless Pacific Telephone (0-3) in next week's finale while Presidio must encounter rugged Hamilton Field.

Spectators will be able to see the league's four best hurlers tonight in Sohner's Lou Perazzo, Hamilton's Howie Miller, Presidio's Lee Gascon and Novato's Jim Drennan.

SHRINE GAME

Marin Stars Leave For L.A. Friday

Ron Snidow, All-Northern California end from San Rafael High School and quarterback Jack Sparrow, Novato High's all-star hero, will check in with other players at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles this Friday to begin preparations for the eighth annual North-South Shrine Football Classic Friday evening, Aug. 7, at the Memorial Coliseum.

The players will gather for lunch, at which time they will be officially greeted by Game Director Elmer P. Bromley and Assistant Game Director Vierling J. Kersey on behalf of the sponsoring Al Malaikah Shrine Temple.

In the afternoon, players and coaches will visit the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital for whose benefit the game is played.

North co-coaches Larry Siemering of Santa Cruz and Bill Gott of Stagg High in Stockton will take their 25-man squad to Whittier College Saturday morning for 12 days of intensive workouts.

The South, under direction of co-coaches Dave Levy of Long Beach Poly and Frank Nobbe of L. A. Fremont, will be housed at Pepperdine College and run through its drills there.

CREAM OF CROP

The 50 players named to the North and South squads, representing the cream of last year's prep grid talent throughout the state, were selected after intensive scrutiny of game films, coaches' recommendations and scouting reports.

Though the South leads the series, 4 to 2, with last year's game ending in an 8-8 tie, the North hasn't lost since 1955. A crowd of 65,094 witnessed last year's Shrine Classic, bringing the total for seven games to 360,328—an average of 51,000 per game—with the high of 85,931 having been reached in 1957.

Vargas Slates Wedding As Victory Celebration

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Reuben Vargas, who will box Eddie Machen in a heavyweight bout here tomorrow night, said today he is so sure of victory he plans to celebrate by getting married.

Bert Brodose, manager for Vargas, said the San Francisco heavyweight has chosen the site of his expected fistic victory as the place where he will get married Thursday — the day after the fight.

Vargas, 27, will marry Mary Taborez, 22, of Salt Lake City, Utah, who now resides in San Francisco.

Machen, who now fights out of Portland, and Vargas will meet in a 10-rounder in the arena of the Oregon Centennial Exposition in Portland. The bout will be televised nationally.

Machen has 26 victories, one draw and one loss — that to world heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Gomes Wants Neutral Ring For Rematch

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Courageous Harold Gomes said today he would like a neutral site rematch with Paul Jorgenson whom he beat for the world junior lightweight championship.

Gomes, knocked down four times last night by his Port Arthur, Tex., opponent, rallied his forces to gain a unanimous 15-round decision at Pierce Memorial Field.

"I'd be glad to fight him again anywhere but in Texas," the weary Gomes said afterward. The 25-year-old Providence battler was sick in the dressing room from low blows.

Gomes blamed his overanxiousness for the knockdowns — three in the 11th round and one in the 15th.

CONNOLLY

There are two Bill Rigneys today.

There is Bill Rigney who manages the S.F. Giants and there is Bill Rigney, once the bespectacled shortstop of the Oakland Club and the newest defamer of percentage baseball.

Yesterday the dual personality of Rigney came back to town after a hell-uva successful trip throughout the east and middle west, to defy his critics. He brought the Giants home in first place and in that respect he scurriously flaunts his style of play against his critics.

Bill Rigney has grown like a weed since I first met him. He cut quite a figure during the war days with the Giants as a player, and later, when he was sent to Minneapolis to manage the Giant farm team, and finally when he rose up and succeeded Leo Durocher.

So on the right side of the ledger one has to admit that Rigney is better than a green hand at overcoming obstacles.

But regardless of his success one has to admit that Rigney defies every rule of percentage baseball to accomplish his purpose.

MAYBE THAT IS the modern trend. But whatever it is, Rigney and the Giants are going to be home for a good spell, starting with a two-game series ending today with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

FIRST OF ITS KIND — The N. S. Savannah, first nuclear-powered merchant ship, glistened in a shiny coat of paint as it stood on the ways at Camden, N. J., ready for its christening and launching yesterday. Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower performed the christening. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Launches First Atom Merchant Ship

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — The launching of the first atom-powered merchant ship, Savannah, was hailed today as a "bold and enterprising experiment in the daring and distinguished annals" of American science and seafaring.

Acting Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller set forth that view in an address a few minutes before the 21,000-ton Savannah slid down the launching ways.

"This ship," Mueller said, "was born of the inspiration of our distinguished president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and became a reality through his leadership and enthusiasm translated into legislation by the Congress of the United States."

The President's wife was there for the traditional ceremony of giving the ship its name and sending the Savannah into the water. It is the country's first non-military atomic vessel.

Another speaker, Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.), said the Savannah was "only the beginning of development of nuclear vessels of all kinds."

"I christen thee Savannah."

It has been a long time, more than 140 years, since those words were first spoken and a little 320-ton paddle wheel steamer also called Savannah slid into the water. That ship was the first ship with steam power built for Atlantic crossings.

MARS CRAFT

Flying Boats May Become Fire Planes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Four giant Mars flying boats—now in mothballs after setting world records for the Navy—are scheduled to become the world's largest aerial firefighters.

The huge planes, which weigh 72 tons each and have wingspans of 200 feet, probably will be based on big lakes in the rich timber country of western Canada.

In the event of a forest fire, each flying boat would be capable of dumping 35 tons of water in the burning area within minutes after the blaze was reported.

A spokesman for the company which bought the planes from the Navy as surplus said the firm was negotiating with an unnamed Canadian lumber company in regard to the project.

The four flying boats—named Caroline, Hawaii, Philippines, and Mariannas—were retired to Alameda in 1956 after 10 years of service, mostly between the San Francisco Bay Area and Hawaii.

Solon Says Reds Stepping Up Sabotage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said today the Kremlin has sent orders to U.S. Communists to intensify training of key revolutionaries in sabotage, subversion and penetration.

Walter, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, made the statement in opening committee hearings on Communist training operations.

Walter said that in May of this year James E. Jackson Jr., whom he described as "one of the top Communist conspirators operating in the United States," returned here from Moscow.

"Jackson's orders from the Kremlin, which have now been transmitted to the comrades in the United States, are to intensify the training of key revolutionaries in sabotage, subversion and penetration," Walter said.

No Hesitating

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Mrs. Kenneth Porter was quite frank about her age after she found it was listed at 155 in her new driver's license. She admitted she was 33.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has invited Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem to visit the Soviet Union, Baghdad Radio said today.

The broadcast said the invitation was announced by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov, head of a Russian delegation visiting Baghdad for celebrations of the first anniversary of the last year's July 14 revolution.

Cliff Murder Try

SANTA MONICA (AP)—A husband who sent a car with his wife and mother-in-law in it over a 450-foot cliff was under psychiatric observation today in the prison ward of General Hospital.

"I can't understand why he would do this," his wife sobbed yesterday as police tied up Robert J. Briggs, 39, a building contractor, at the scene. Officers reported he was muttering incoherently and had tried to beat the women over the head with rocks and a pickaxe when the car stopped part way down the lonely canyon drop-off.

St. Paul Brewery Resumes Production

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Production at the Hamm Brewing Co. plant here resumed yesterday after union acceptance of a contract proposal ended a 10-day walkout.

The new contract provides for 23 cents in hourly increases over two years, bringing brewers' wages to $3.15 an hour and boilers to $3.10.

Billie Holiday Rites

The 44-year-old singer who died Friday was buried after a Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Paul the Apostle Roman Catholic Church. More than a thousand of her admirers filed past her heavy bronze casket yesterday and Sunday.

New Racist Book Ban

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The Shreveport Memorial Library's chief librarian has taken a children's book out of circulation because it has illustrations of white and Negro children fishing and picnicking together.

Miss Inez Boone said the drawings in "The First Book of Fishing" presented as typical scenes that were not typical for the area.

On Hannibal's Trail

LA ROCHETTE, France (AP)—Jumbo the elephant covered 12½ miles on the first day of his trek over the Alps in an attempt to prove Hannibal took the high road invading Italy in 219 B.C.

A brass band, a bale of hay and the mayor greeted Jumbo last night on completion of the first leg of his climb toward the 7,300-foot-high Clapier Pass.

British historian John Hoyte says this is the route taken by Hannibal's Carthaginian legions riding African elephants. The more common theory is that Hannibal took lower passes near the Mediterranean Coast.

$12½ Billion Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government wound up the unhappy fiscal year 1959 on June 30 with a peacetime record deficit of 12½ billion dollars.

The deficit was the fourth and largest turned in by the Eisenhower administration, as against two surpluses. But it was 330 million dollars less than President Eisenhower estimated six months ago in his budget message to Congress.

FIRST OF ITS KIND — The N. S. Savannah, first nuclear-powered merchant ship, glistened in a shiny coat of paint as it stood on the ways at Camden, N. J., ready for its christening and launching yesterday. Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower performed the christening. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Launches First Atom Merchant Ship

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — The launching of the first atom-powered merchant ship, Savannah, was hailed today as a "bold and enterprising experiment in the daring and distinguished annals" of American science and seafaring.

Acting Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller set forth that view in an address a few minutes before the 21,000-ton Savannah slid down the launching ways.

"This ship," Mueller said, "was born of the inspiration of our distinguished president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and became a reality through his leadership and enthusiasm translated into legislation by the Congress of the United States."

The President's wife was there for the traditional ceremony of giving the ship its name and sending the Savannah into the water. It is the country's first non-military atomic vessel.

Another speaker, Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.), said the Savannah was "only the beginning of development of nuclear vessels of all kinds."

After the speeches, Mrs. Eisenhower struck a bottle of champagne and spoke the brief part allotted by tradition to ship sponsors:

"I christen thee Savannah."

It has been a long time, more than 140 years, since those words were first spoken and a little 320-ton paddle wheel steamer also called Savannah slid into the water. That ship was the first ship with steam power built for Atlantic crossings.

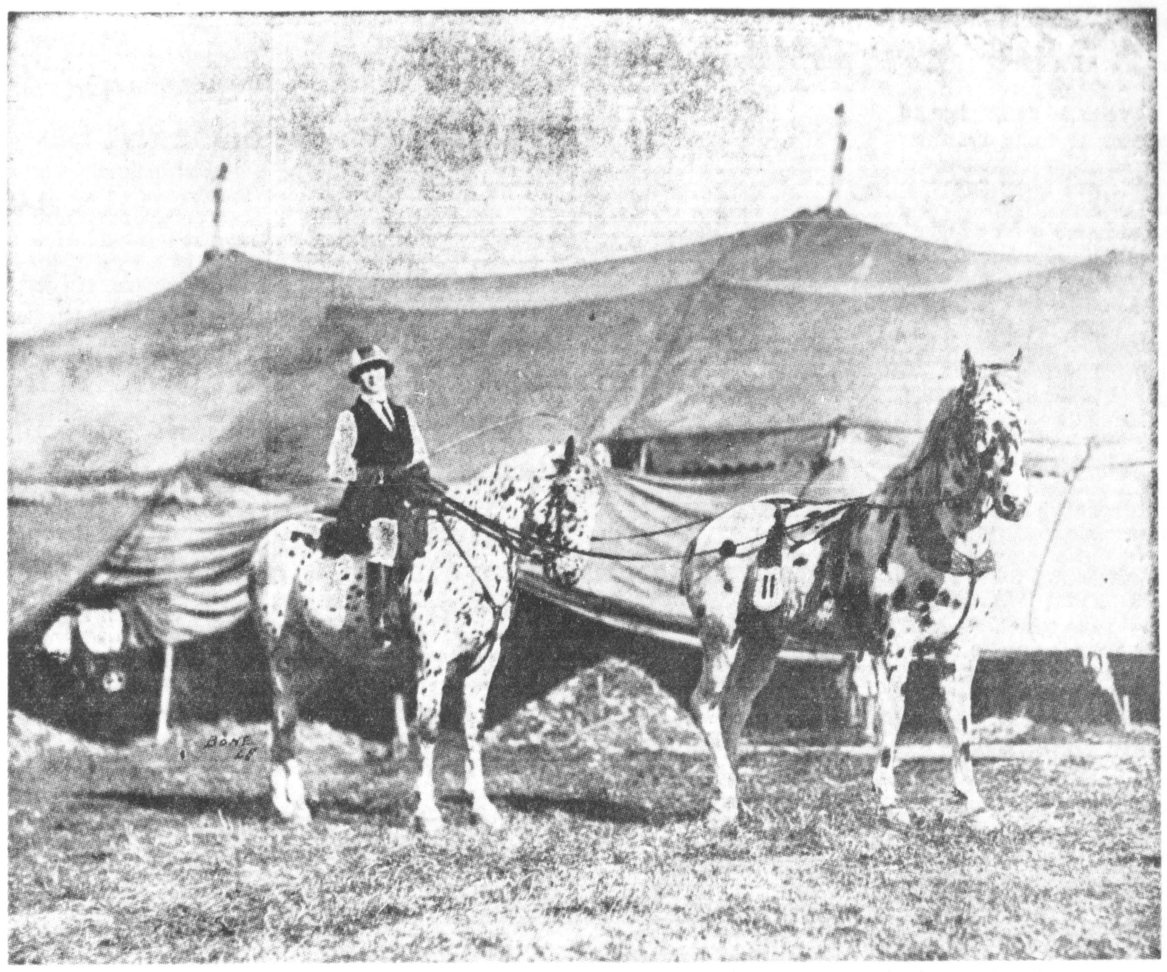
JENNIE WAS the elephant Kharvina Burbeck of Mill Valley "worked" in this and other circus acts in her heyday with the Al G. Barnes Circus. Assigned suddenly to the act when the previous performer was killed, Kharvina, pictured here, says "Jennie" taught her the routine. In a "cover-act" the many-tonned "Jennie" apparently lay down on her 90 pound mistress. The explanation was the foot or so of soft flesh on the elephant's belly.



PREMIERE DANSEUSE and trick rider with the circus, Kharvina is up on one of the Arabian desert horses. The act was a "tandem jump" which was very dangerous if the lead horse missed or refused to jump. It was at an early age that she learned to ride horses. She practiced jumps and other tricks in Muir Woods before it became a national monument. Her family first came to Mill Valley after the 1906 earthquake.

THROUGH HER circus contacts Kharvina became interested in wild animals that led to both working with them and painting them. At one time "George," a lion belonging to the Selig Zoo in Los Angeles, became such a pal that she trained him to draw a cart and drove it down Los Angeles streets.

Careers Of Mill Valley Artist Go From Lion Tamer To Nurse

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

This diminutive 57-year-old artist who specializes in animal portraits lives quietly in Mill Valley now, and few suspect that she has had enough careers to keep 20 women busy.

The list is amazing—ballet dancer, trained by a former dancer in the Russian Imperial Ballet — vaudeville performer in acts that included singing, dancing and playing the marimba simultaneously, as well as judo and boxing demonstrations—premiere danseuse and trainer of horses and lion tamer with the Al G. Barnes Circus—double for movie stars like Gloria Swanson in dangerous sequences—employee of the Los Angeles vice squad—chauffeur and bodyguard for evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson's mother, "Ma Kennedy"—and nurse!

Born in Watsonville in 1902, Kharvina was the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burbeck. Her mother was a concert singer before her marriage, and her father—once a member of the famed Sousa's band—was manager for 30 years of the Sherman and Clay band and orchestra department in San Francisco.

Other children were a sister, now Mrs. Walter Johnson of Tiburon and wife of a late former mayor of Mill Valley; and a brother, Donald Burbeck, who was Mill Valley's postmaster for about 10 years. His daughter is the well known Mrs. Melvin Klyce Jr. of Mill Valley. A niece, Kharvina Johnson, who lives with her mother in Tiburon, is a namesake.

EARLIEST MEMORIES

"One of my earliest memories," Kharvina recalled, "is of the walls shaking as my mother snatched me out of my high chair during the 1906 earthquake and fire in San Francisco. It was at this time our family moved to Mill Valley and lived for some time in a tent—like many others."

Singing, piano, dancing and art lessons took up a great deal of Kharvina's time from her grammar school days at the old school on Summit avenue until she was graduated from Tamalpais High School.

But, she claims, she still had plenty of time to indulge in her hobbies of hiking, riding every horse she could find and bringing home all sorts of animals—even snakes.

"Kids make me laugh nowadays," she said, "they say they never have enough time to do anything — and, incidentally," she remarked, "that's one of the reasons for juvenile delinquency—kids don't keep busy.

"I started ballet in San Francisco's Pavely Okrainski ballet school under a former member of what was probably the last imperial ballet school under the czars."

At the same time, she was studying voice with Mme. Bardellini and attending children's art classes Saturdays at the California School of Fine Arts, both in San Francisco. Except for the training she received in these art classes, she is self-taught.

"After I graduated from Tamalpais High School, I went on tour with the Pavely Okrainski dancers. I also traveled with other ballet companies after that and then went into vaudeville on the old Orpheum and Pantages circuits."

Having learned to play the marimba, an instrument like the xylophone except that it has long resonator pipes, she was able to do an act consisting of simultaneously dancing, singing and playing the marimba.

JUDO LESSONS

Interested in all forms of athletics, she met Dave Landau at this time and took judo and boxing lessons from him. It was only a step then to putting on demonstrations, and at one time she appeared in such a vaudeville act with "Fighting Babe McGillin," who had been a contender for the woman's boxing championship with the French title holder, Jeanette La Marr.

The next step was into the movies. She had ridden horses all her life, practicing jumps and other tricks in Muir Woods before it became a national monument, and that ability plus her athletic prowess led into her becoming a double for Hollywood movie stars in dangerous scenes.

Her natural interest in animals intensified by her work with horses in these scenes, she wanted to paint them and other animals and decided to request permission to study them at first hand by going to the Al Barnes circus, which was in winter quarters at Culver City nearby.

TRICK RIDER

She did this until her talents were quickly discovered, and she was soon under contract as premiere danseuse and trick rider with the circus.

"Through my circus contacts I met Louis Roth and his wife Betty, who received the wild animals the famous Frank Buck brought directly from the jungles. This led naturally into working with them and painting them."

At one time "George," a lion belonging to the Selig Zoo in Los Angeles became such a pal that she trained him to draw a cart and drove it down Los Angeles streets.

Tired of circus life after seven years, she took the opportunity to become chauffeur and bodyguard for famous evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson's mother, "Ma" Kennedy. Since "Ma" was an evangelist in her own right, Kharvina also sang and played the celeste song bells (similar to the marimba) at the meetings "Ma" conducted.

An off-beat interlude in Kharvina's many faceted career occurred at this time when she, with "Ma's" approval, was employed by the Los Angeles vice squad.

"During prohibition, it was learned that poisonous bootleg liquor was having a disastrous effect on many university-age students, and I was asked to help locate the source. Posing as an alcoholic dress designer, I made the necessary contacts and was able to give the information to the police."

PAUL REVERE

In 1933 when her mother, still living in Mill Valley, developed a heart condition, Kharvina decided she must go home, and because her valuable saddle horse couldn't stand traveling by railroad, she rode him all the way from Los Angeles to Mill Valley, acclaimed in newspaper headlines as the "Mill Valley beauty —rival of Paul Revere."

From caring for her mother it was natural step to caring for others, and during World War II she gained so much experience in hospitals that doctors still recommend her for both hospital and home nursing cases. She even taught nurses one year at Franklin Hospital.

After her mother died, Kharvina settled down to her painting and nurse's work and has made her living this way for the past 10 years.

"Ever since I was associated with the evangelists in Los Angeles, I've been deeply interested in religion," she said. "I'm a member of Christian Temple in Oakland, headed by Dr. Bebe Patten and her husband, Thomas Patten, and I play the marimba at their services."

As her first portrait of a person she painted one of Patten in 1958. So pleased with it was his wife that she plans to hang it in a special alcove of the new church which is under construction.

Kharvina's constant companion is a black cocker spaniel named "Mr. Smudge," who has an interesting life story of his own that includes a remarkable friendship with a white rat.

Rumor has it that Hollywood is making a life story of Aimee Semple McPherson and that someone is going to be needed to ride an elephant, as she once did.

"I'd love to play the double for this part," she laughed.

And as far as the action is concerned, she probably could, for she can still turn a sequence of handsprings in the bat of an eyelash.

Hawley Family Enjoys Unusual Summer Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hawley and their sons, Chris and John, have just returned to Mill Valley after an exceptionally interesting vacation.

They were among the 40 California people who made the trip in rubber rafts down the Yampa and Green Rivers in Colorado, which run through the Dinosaur National Monument.

The trip, sponsored by the Sierra Club, was made under the direction of Bus Hatch, river expert who was with Lowell Thomas when he filmed for cinerama the first journey ever made down the Indus River in Pakistan.

"There were 10 persons to a raft, each under the guidance of a trained boatman," Mrs. Hawley said. "After four hours on the rafts we would stop at beautiful little beaches and camp. This route by river is the only way into these canyons, which are very colorful."

After the river journey the Hawleys went on to the Grand Tetons and returned by way of Yellowstone Park.

They enjoyed the river trip so much that they plan to spend their next vacation on a similarly organized tour down the Salmon River in Idaho.

Tri Delt Sorority Enters College of Pacific Campus

Delta Delta Delta, international collegiate fraternity for women, has accepted the petition of Tau Kappa Kappa Sorority at the College of the Pacific to become its 105th chapter. Installation of this Phi Rho chapter of Tri Delta will take place next fall.

Judy Lynn Barklow, president of the local group, will attend Tri Delta's Third Leadership School in Madison, Wis., Aug. 24-28. More than 400 members are expected to attend the training school, which is the only such national one held regularly by any of the women's fraternities.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Now that summer is here, Camp Fire Girls of San Rafael are enjoying the pleasures of camp life at Kilowana, site of the Marin County Camp Fire Girls' summer camp. Located in the mountains outside of Calistoga, the site boasts fine weather, beautiful scenery, comfortable tree-shaded quarters, and a swimming pool fed by a natural stream. San Rafael Camp Fire Girls and their Blue Bird sisters are enjoying camplife this summer. Sleeping on kiosks (open platforms) under the stars for one or more of the five camp sessions are Sally Beerbower, Carol Dell Era, Nancy Egan, Judy Evans, Arlene Maffei, Vicky Olson, and Denise Parsons.

Daily arts and crafts classes are led by the counseling staff; so Diane and Donna Presco, Rosemary Rafael, Beverly Sadler, Nancy Simmons, Deanna St. Gaudens and the others will all come home with a variety of newly-acquired skills. Nature hikes, too, are part of the program that Beverly Tucker, Judith Contos, Terry Hoff, Janice Moore, Blair Wardlaw, Carol Nichols, and Renee Savel are experiencing.

MOUNTAIN WATER

Recreational swimming in the cool mountain water appeals to most of the girls, including campers Karen Berner, Cathy Callan, Robin Christensen, Lynne Lambruschini, and Laurie McClurg. On especially hot nights, the girls are sometimes treated to an evening swim. Enjoying one during a recent hot spell were Dulcie Perkins, Diann Sichel, Beth Skinner, Pamela Todd, and Terry Weese.

Everyone has to take her turn at "K. P." duty, including Lee Sichel, Sherilynn Bell, Karen Friedman, Karen Gravitch, Adrienne Maffei, and the three Parsons girls, Carol, Jeanne, and Judy. After lunch every day, the hour's rest period is appreciated by all the campers, even such enthusiastic ones as Barbara Gregory, Kathleen Bell, Patsy and Sandra Bolt, and Bonnie Brown.

Singing songs around the camp fire is a happy climax to an eventful day. Catherine Carpenter, Pamela Davis, Sheri Edmundson, Debbie Getz, Sharon Grossi and all the others enjoy the spirit of comradeship that is part of a Camp Fire Sing. Writing letters home is part of the routine; so the parents of Linda Gudmundson, Cathy Hewelcke, Ginger Hoefer, Janet Hoy, Jan Hunsinger, and Marlene Katzman will be hearing all about it via the postal service.

LAST SESSION

Careers Of Mill Valley Artist

liquor was having a disastrous effect on many university-age students, and I was asked to help locate the source. Posing as an alcoholic dress designer, I made the necessary contacts and was able to give the information to the police."

PAUL REVERE

In 1933 when her mother, still living in Mill Valley, developed a heart condition, Kharvina decided she must go home, and because her valuable saddle horse couldn't stand traveling by railroad, she rode him all the way from Los Angeles to Mill Valley, acclaimed in newspaper headlines as the "Mill Valley beauty —rival of Paul Revere."

From caring for her mother it was natural step to caring for others, and during World War II she gained so much experience in hospitals that doctors still recommend her for both hospital and home nursing cases. She even taught nurses one year at Franklin Hospital.

After her mother died, Kharvina settled down to her painting and nurse's work and has made her living this way for the past 10 years.

"Ever since I was associated with the evangelists in Los Angeles, I've been deeply interested in religion," she said. "I'm a member of Christian Temple in Oakland, headed by Dr. Bebe Patten and her husband, Thomas Patten, and I play the marimba at their services."

As her first portrait of a person she painted one of Patten in 1958. So pleased with it was his wife that she plans to hang it in a special alcove of the new church which is under construction.

Kharvina's constant companion is a black cocker spaniel named "Mr. Smudge," who has an interesting life story of his own that includes a remarkable friendship with a white rat.

Rumor has it that Hollywood is making a life story of Aimee Semple McPherson and that someone is going to be needed to ride an elephant, as she once did.

"I'd love to play the double for this part," she laughed.

And as far as the action is concerned, she probably could, for she can still turn a sequence of handsprings in the bat of an eyelash.

Hawley Family Enjoys Unusual Summer Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hawley and their sons, Chris and John, have just returned to Mill Valley after an exceptionally interesting vacation.

They were among the 40 California people who made the trip in rubber rafts down the Yampa and Green Rivers in Colorado, which run through the Dinosaur National Monument.

The trip, sponsored by the Sierra Club, was made under the direction of Bus Hatch, river expert who was with Lowell Thomas when he filmed for cinerama the first journey ever made down the Indus River in Pakistan.

"There were 10 persons to a raft, each under the guidance of a trained boatman," Mrs. Hawley said. "After four hours on the rafts we would stop at beautiful little beaches and camp. This route by river is the only way into these canyons, which are very colorful."

After the river journey the Hawleys went on to the Grand Tetons and returned by way of Yellowstone Park.

They enjoyed the river trip so much that they plan to spend their next vacation on a similarly organized tour down the Salmon River in Idaho.

'LIKE BEING HOME'

By PATRICIA ZINN

"It's like being home," was the exuberant comment of dark haired Adriana Hernandez of Santiago, Chile, on a tour of the Bay area and Marin County last week.

Adriana and traveling companion Florence Wasell of New York City were in Marin on a sight-seeing tour with I-J Marin Magazine editor Barbara Hosmer.

Both Adriana and Barbara were graduated in the 1959 class of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. Florence is an English teacher and languistics student at Columbia.

Adriana, in comparing San Francisco and Marin, pointed out that the climate and hills are much the same as that of the Andes Mountains around Santiago.

Santigao, too, has a unique mode of transportation which is much like the cable car in San Francisco.

The two women, who are concluding the year with an extensive tour of the United States were also most impressed by "all the white houses" and the cleanliness of the Bay Area in general.

Also included in the "wonderful year" is her "Cinderella" experience. On a student's visa, she had to get special permission to cross the border for a dinner beyond Niagara Falls on the Canadian side. In order to stay within the limits of a midnight deadline, "Cinderella" came dashing back to Buffalo at a quarter to twelve.

She will return to Santiago to complete one semester of study at the University of Chile. This past year at Columbia was made possible by means of the Inter-american Press Assn. Scholarship.

The two travelers—Adriana and Florence—first met when Florence lived with her family in Santiago. They renewed their "nodding" acquaintance when Adriana arrived to study at Columbia.

The two have exhausted every possible mode of transportation in their journey thus far including train, bus, plane, car and even steamship across the Great Lakes, where the name of the ship, amazingly enough, was the "South America."

The laughingly admit that each knows more about the other's country, for Florence traveled extensively throughout Chile during her stay there and Adriana has never journeyed to the southern part.

Also interesting is that both have made trips to and from the United States on freighters. Adriana arrived in the United States to pursue her studies aboard a Chilean freighter which took 28 days for the voyage from Valpariso to New York. Florence, on the other hand, made the trip from New York to Chile. Both enjoyed the adventure aboard the freighters, which accomodate only 12 passengers, the remaining being the crew.

As to their tour of the United States, they felt a real thrill on visiting New Orleans but as to the deep south "beautiful but too hot."

From San Francisco the two will go on to Long Beach, Phoenix, El Paso and then into Mexico. Tentative plans also include Venezuela and from there emplaning to Chile.

The nicest part about the entire trip has been the good fortune in their guides — all classmates.

TOURING MARIN COUNTY last week with Barbara Hosmer, left, I-J Marin Magazine editor, were Florence Wasell, center, of New York City and Adriana Hernandez, right, of Santiago, Chile. The two girls are touring the United States. Both Barbara and Adriana were graduated with the 1959 class of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. Florence is a teacher at Columbia.

Clubwomen Visit Schools In Hong Kong

California Federation of Women's Clubs international project, "School Kits for Children of Vietnam and Hong Kong," received stimulation last month when Federated Clubwomen, on their way to the Asiatic Conference in Manila, visited schools in Hong Kong to "see for themselves."

Mrs. Alf E Uddenberg of San Francisco, international hostess chairman, C. F. W. C., representing California, assisted by Dave Jack, mission chief for CARE in Hong Kong, presented school kits to refugee children. These kits were provided by the clubwomen of California.

Miss Chloe Gifford of Washington, D. C., president, General Federation of Women's Clubs, a vice president and member of the board of directors of CARE accompanied the party for first hand information on program administration. Others were Mrs. T. C. Carroll, Council of International Clubs chairman, G. F. W. C.; Mrs. Leo F. Curtis, director of Junior Clubs G. F. W. C.; Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, public relations director, and Mrs. Mildred Wells.

Seventy-four thousand kits are needed in Hong Kong alone to meet the needs of the children and California's goal is a kit from each of its 70,000 members.

Expected Visitors

Expected houseguests of the George Goertz' of San Rafael within the next several weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Karp and two children, Perry and Christopher of Lexington, Ky. Mr. Karp, who heads the music department at the University of Lexington, is a well-known concert pianist in the East. Also to arrive in the near future is Mrs. Stafford Vaes of Brussels, Belgium.

A good help-yourself thirst-quenching snack to leave for the refrigerator raiders is a whole pared pineapple (covered with transparent plastic film)—everyone is invited to cut a slice.

Many Luncheon Parties Planned For 'Salute To Hawaii' Program

A large number of luncheon parties are being planned in connection with the "Salute to Hawaii" program, which is opening the traditional summer series of outdoor luncheons at the Marin Art and Garden Center tomorrow.

The event, one of six planned for successive Wednesday afternoons at 12:30 p.m., is sponsored by the Northgate Group. At the remaining five luncheons, county-wide organizations will cooperate with Center affiliates in putting on fashion shows.

As the opening program is honoring the "Fiftieth State," a greeting from Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii will be read.

Authentic Hawaiian entertainment featuring Bobby Kuala and his dance group from San Francisco and the musical accompaniments of the Frank Moitozas of Mill Valley and the John Andersons of Corte Madera will be a major attraction at the event, instead of the fashion shows which will feature succeeding programs.

In keeping with the Island theme, the Mesdames Victor Guilder, Dion Ramsey-Raisan, and Louis Leonetti of the Decorations Guild, another Center affiliate, are making the Hawaiian leis for the guests.

Center president Mrs. Norman Livermore of Ross traditionally entertains members of the Art and Garden Fair staff at the opening luncheon of the summer series, now in their 13th year. This year her guests will be the Messrs. and Mesdames William Kapranos, Vincent Davison, Michael Lopez and the Mesdames Harold McCoy, Joseph Riznik, Gordon Beesley, Joy Peterson, and George Collins.

Mrs. Frank Howard Allen and her sister, Mrs. Uda Waldrop, will have a dozen friends as their luncheon guests, while Miss Anita Junck of San Francisco will entertain 17 friends from the city and Marin.

In honor of Mrs. Frank Stratford and Mrs. Wallace Scott will be the large luncheon party of 65, arranged by Mrs. Jack Hunt and Mrs. Ralph Alden. Arranging luncheon parties, too, are the Mesdames William H. Price, A. E. Sbarbaro, Wallace Myers, John Dowling, Harrison Leppo, Alfred Bach, George Tobin, Lawrence McNear and Fred Figone.

Mrs. Melvin Duncan of San Anselmo is chairman for the luncheon series, Mrs. Roland Wilson, Kentfield, co-chairman, and Mrs. Frank Dettner, chairman for the fashion shows.

At the second of the luncheon series, to be held next Wednesday, July 29, Guide Dogs for the Blind and the Humane Society will participate in the fashion show, which will feature fall fashions. Mrs. Kenneth Peters is chairman.

Mary Hilden Bride of Henry Quan

In a recent double ring ceremony in Reno, Nev., Mary Ann Hilden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin H. Hilden of San Anselmo, became the bride of Henry Quan, son of Mrs. Grace Quan of China Camp, and the late Henry Quan.

The bride is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School. She is the sister of Mrs. K. R. Neff of San Jose; Mrs. E. P. Hernandez of Tucson, Ariz., and Edward Hilden of San Anselmo. Mrs. Augusta Hilden of Brooklyn, N.Y., is her grandmother.

The bridegroom was graduated from San Rafael High School and is employed with Ralph E. Murphy and Sons in San Rafael.

Mrs. Bill Chew of Hayward is his sister and Milton Quan of San Anselmo and Frank Quan of San Rafael are his brothers.

By PATRICIA ZINN

"It's like being home," was the exuberant comment of dark haired Adriana Hernandez of Santiago, Chile, on a tour of the Bay area and Marin County last week.

Adriana and traveling companion Florence Wasell of New York City were in Marin on a sight-seeing tour with I-J Marin Magazine editor Barbara Hosmer.

Both Adriana and Barbara were graduated in the 1959 class of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. Florence is an English teacher and languistics student at Columbia.

Adriana, in comparing San Francisco and Marin, pointed out that the climate and hills are much the same as that of the Andes Mountains around Santiago.

Comparable, too, is the produce of the inland valleys of both with their truck farms and vineyards.

Santigao, too, has a unique mode of transportation which is much like the cable car in San Francisco.

The two women, who are concluding the year with an extensive tour of the United States were also most impressed by "all the white houses" and the cleanliness of the Bay Area in general.

Adriana was so impressed with everything and this area in particular after a "wonderful year" at Columbia that she hopes to return.

Also included in the "wonderful year" is her "Cinderella" experience. On a student's visa, she had to get special permission to cross the border for a dinner beyond Niagara Falls on the Canadian side. In order to stay within the limits of a midnight deadline, "Cinderella" came dashing back to Buffalo at a quarter to twelve.

Leaving Baby Alone In The Bath Can Spell Disaster Too Quickly

Mrs. V.J. "I gave my 7-month-old baby boy his bath as usual. Then I discovered I had left the clean towels on the laundry porch. I thought he would be safe alone in the water for a moment and hurried out for the towel. I came back to find him thrashing under the water. His face and lips were blue, and he was not fully conscious. I held him up a moment to drain the water, and then gave him artificial respiration. The neighbors heard me scream and came to help. We got a doctor. He said the baby was all right. No harm was done, but if I'd been away a few more seconds he would have drowned. Will you warn other mothers never to leave their babies in water?"

Reply. I will, gladly. I'm sure we all share your thanksgiving that your baby was spared.

Mrs. L. G. "I watched a sex offender make friends with a neighbor's girl. He called her over to his car, and gave her some stick candy. They talked a moment, then he opened the door for her. When she started to climb in I came to my senses. I ran out and asked if she knew him. She said she didn't. He cursed me, but I made her get out. He drove away. Then I called the police. They said he answered the description of a man on parole for a sex offense. I have a daughter the same age. What can I do to protect her from such men?"

Reply. Teach her in a few simple, but important lessons. (1) Not to have anything whatever to do with strangers. No gifts, no conversations. Above all, no rides. (2) Not to go near places where the sex deviates congregate. Your police should be able to tell you where the places are. (3) Not to sit alone in a movie theater. To report to the usher if any stranger tries to talk to her or touch her. Try to teach the rules in an unemotional, matter-of-fact way. Try not to frighten your girl. We're in the middle of sex crime season. There seem to be more offenders around now than last year. All children need protection.

ALMANAC

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus, and Mars.

In 1861, the first major military engagement of the Civil War took place at Bull Run Creek, Va.

In 1925, John Scopes, a high school biology teacher, was found guilty of teaching the theory of evolution at Dayton, Tenn. The state was assisted in its charges by William Jennings Bryan and Scopes was defended by Attorney Clarence Darrow.

Thought for today: Poet William Rose Benet said: "Jesse James was a two-gun man."

Man Given Jail For Holdup Try

Judge Thomas F. Keating sentenced Jenkins for second degree robbery yesterday. He must remain on three years probation.

According to sheriff's deputies, Jenkins stole a car from San Francisco and used it in the holdup of the Richfield Station at Alto on June 17. He used a spotlight handle to simulate a gun and took $107 from attendant Doyle R. Brown, 28, of Forest Knolls.

But in the getaway, the 1959 car he had stolen broke down. Sheriff's deputies closed in on him as he tried to get away on foot.

Dog Licenses To Be Sold At Novato Firehouse

The Marin County Humane Society, which handles sales of dog licenses in the unincorporated areas, announced today a license clerk will be stationed at the Novato firehouse from 1 to 4:30 p.m., this week and next, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

All dogs over three months old must be licensed. The fee is $3. The owner must show certification of a current rabies vaccination (this year or last) when applying for the license.

Licenses will be sold also at the county firehouse in Woodacre during a rabies vaccination clinic there from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, the Humane Society announced.

Dog owners in incorporated cities may purchase licenses at their city halls. Licenses may also be purchased by mail from the Tax Collector's Office, Marin County Courthouse, or from the Marin County Humane Society, 402 Third street, San Rafael.

Aug. 1 is the deadline for obtaining 1958-59 licenses.

Trial Slated In Marijuana Case

A jury trial will be held in September for Thomas Erhart Jr., 30, Sausalito writer, who is accused of marijuana possession.

Erhart pleaded innocent yesterday before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court and demanded a trial by jury. The judge set the trial for Sept. 29, 30, and Oct. 1.

Leaving Baby Alone In The Bath Can Spell Disaster Too Quickly

Mrs. V.J. "I gave my 7-month-old baby boy his bath as usual. Then I discovered I had left the clean towels on the laundry porch. I thought he would be safe alone in the water for a moment and hurried out for the towel. I came back to find him thrashing under the water. His face and lips were blue, and he was not fully conscious. I held him up a moment to drain the water, and then gave him artificial respiration. The neighbors heard me scream and came to help. We got a doctor. He said the baby was all right. No harm was done, but if I'd been away a few more seconds he would have drowned. Will you warn other mothers never to leave their babies in water?"

Reply. I will, gladly. I'm sure we all share your thanksgiving that your baby was spared.

Mrs. L. G. "I watched a sex offender make friends with a neighbor's girl. He called her over to his car, and gave her some stick candy. They talked a moment, then he opened the door for her. When she started to climb in I came to my senses. I ran out and asked if she knew him. She said she didn't. He cursed me, but I made her get out. He drove away. Then I called the police. They said he answered the description of a man on parole for a sex offense. I have a daughter the same age. What can I do to protect her from such men?"

Reply. Teach her in a few simple, but important lessons. (1) Not to have anything whatever to do with strangers. No gifts, no conversations. Above all, no rides. (2) Not to go near places where the sex deviates congregate. Your police should be able to tell you where the places are. (3) Not to sit alone in a movie theater. To report to the usher if any stranger tries to talk to her or touch her. Try to teach the rules in an unemotional, matter-of-fact way. Try not to frighten your girl. We're in the middle of sex crime season. There seem to be more offenders around now than last year. All children need protection.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, July 21, the 202nd day of the year, with 163 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus, and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1861, the first major military engagement of the Civil War took place at Bull Run Creek, Va.

In 1925, John Scopes, a high school biology teacher, was found guilty of teaching the theory of evolution at Dayton, Tenn. The state was assisted in its charges by William Jennings Bryan and Scopes was defended by Attorney Clarence Darrow.

Thought for today: Poet William Rose Benet said: "Jesse James was a two-gun man."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

Man Given Jail For Holdup Try

Thomas Howard Jenkins, 24-year-old San Francisco glazier who flubbed a service station holdup at Alto last month, must spend one year in county jail.

Judge Thomas F. Keating sentenced Jenkins for second degree robbery yesterday. He must remain on three years probation.

According to sheriff's deputies, Jenkins stole a car from San Francisco and used it in the holdup of the Richfield Station at Alto on June 17. He used a spotlight handle to simulate a gun and took $107 from attendant Doyle R. Brown, 28, of Forest Knolls.

But in the getaway, the 1959 car he had stolen broke down. Sheriff's deputies closed in on him as he tried to get away on foot.

Dog Licenses To Be Sold At Novato Firehouse

The Marin County Humane Society, which handles sales of dog licenses in the unincorporated areas, announced today a license clerk will be stationed at the Novato firehouse from 1 to 4:30 p.m., this week and next, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

All dogs over three months old must be licensed. The fee is $3. The owner must show certification of a current rabies vaccination (this year or last) when applying for the license.

Licenses will be sold also at the county firehouse in Woodacre during a rabies vaccination clinic there from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, the Humane Society announced.

Dog owners in incorporated cities may purchase licenses at their city halls. Licenses may also be purchased by mail from the Tax Collector's Office, Marin County Courthouse, or from the Marin County Humane Society, 402 Third street, San Rafael.

Aug. 1 is the deadline for obtaining 1958-59 licenses.

Swim Pool Has Brisk Patronage

His tabulations, which include the Red Cross instruction program, were made from July 11. July 9 was the heaviest day with 1,113 swimmers.

Fitzhenry said that the family night swimming on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. is free to the public. He also said that the Marin Pirates, Amateur Athletic Union swim team, now has 50 members and work out every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 5:15 to 7 p.m.

Swimming is also offered at Tamalpais High. In addition, other recreational facilities are in session every day at Drake, Redwood and Tamalpais.

GWEN CURATILO
Plans concert

Music Club Winner To Sing Friday

Soprano Gwen Curatilo, winner of the San Francisco Musical Club Scholarship this year, will sing at Dominican College's Angelico Hall Auditorium Friday at 8 p.m.

The program will include songs by Handel, Scarlatti, Schumann, Rachmaninoff, Voughn Williams and Hageman, Spanish folk tunes and a Verdi aria. The concert is free.

Mrs. Curatilo, a native of Illinois, studied at the American Conservatory in Champaign-Urbana. She lives at 588 Wisteria way, San Rafael, with her husband and young daughter. She has studied voice with Dr. Giulio Silva of the San Francisco Conservatory. Recently, she appeared as soloist in Silva's Cantata, "The Hound of Heaven."

Mrs. Curatilo was chosen Bay Area regional winner of the San Francisco Opera Debut Auditions and attended the Merola Memorial Opera School at the San Francisco Opera House as well as the season's opera performances.

Recently she was chosen to sing the leading role in a premier performance of the contemporary opera, "The Sorrows of Orpheus," by Darius Milhaud, at the University of California. Last May she sang in the San Francisco Musical Club's production of "Louise."

Pianist Stephanie Shehatovich will accompany Mrs. Curatilo.

Jobless Pay Claims Drop

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Unemployment insurance claims dropped off during June, according to reports released by two state agencies.

John E. Carr, California director of employment, said the number of workers filing continued claims averaged 23,200 per week in June, 10 per cent under the May figure and 38 per cent below that of June of last year.

Manufacturing employment in the Bay Area climbed to 199,000 wage and salary workers in June, according to John F. Henning, California director of industrial relations. This is an increase of 2,000 from May and 7,500 from June, 1958.

At Stanford Parley

Two College of Marin officials this week are attending the Institute for College and University Administrators at Stanford University. They are Paul Clymer, vice president, and Irwin Diamond, dean of men and head of guidance.

Swim Pool Has Brisk Patronage

A total of 4,765 swimmers made use of the Sir Francis Drake High School swimming facilities during a five consecutive day period, according to director Robert Fitzhenry.

His tabulations, which include the Red Cross instruction program, were made from July 11. July 9 was the heaviest day with 1,113 swimmers.

Fitzhenry said that the family night swimming on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. is free to the public. He also said that the Marin Pirates, Amateur Athletic Union swim team, now has 50 members and work out every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 5:15 to 7 p.m.

Swimming is also offered at Tamalpais High. In addition, other recreational facilities are in session every day at Drake, Redwood and Tamalpais.

The program will include songs by Handel, Scarlatti, Schumann, Rachmaninoff, Voughn Williams and Hageman, Spanish folk tunes and a Verdi aria. The concert is free.

Recently she was chosen to sing the leading role in a premier performance of the contemporary opera, "The Sorrows of Orpheus," by Darius Milhaud, at the University of California. Last May she sang in the San Francisco Musical Club's production of "Louise."

Pianist Stephanie Shehatovich will accompany Mrs. Curatilo.

Jobless Pay Claims Drop

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Unemployment insurance claims dropped off during June, according to reports released by two state agencies.

John E. Carr, California director of employment, said the number of workers filing continued claims averaged 23,200 per week in June, 10 per cent under the May figure and 38 per cent below that of June of last year.

Manufacturing employment in the Bay Area climbed to 199,000 wage and salary workers in June, according to John F. Henning, California director of industrial relations. This is an increase of 2,000 from May and 7,500 from June, 1958.

At Stanford Parley

Two College of Marin officials this week are attending the Institute for College and University Administrators at Stanford University. They are Paul Clymer, vice president, and Irwin Diamond, dean of men and head of guidance.

CARDBOARD BLACK BIRD IS THE TARGET

SCOREMEN—John Hlubb of Petaluma and Fred Del Pino of San Anselmo score a target at Sunday's variable distance archery handicap tournament sponsored by the Northwoods Bowmen's Club at its Santa Venetia range.

Pastors Study Urban Problems At Seminary

Ministers from the western United States convened this morning at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo for a three-day study of big city problems and how they relate to the church.

Dr. Neill Q. Hamilton, assistant professor of New Testament at the seminary, opened the workshop session with an address on "The Gospel."

The city-church seminar will focus attention on "Communicating the Gospel" to city dwellers surrounded by high population densities, low income levels, greater than average rates for delinquency, family breakups, fire losses, and alcoholic and dope addictions.

The seminar is one of three regional workshops this year sponsored by the Department for City and Industrial Work of the Board of National Missions of the United Prebyterian Church in the U. S. A.

During the three-day meeting, lectures will be delivered by the Rev. Dean S. Collins, Pacific District secretary of the American Bible Society; Dr. John Park Lee, secretary of health and welfare of the Board of National Missions in New York City, and Dr. Donovan Smucker, executive of the Presbytery of Chicago.

Missile Success, Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Atlas missile logged its first successful flight in more than five months and a Thor exploded seconds after launching in a spectacular missile show early today.

The Atlas rumbled 5,500 miles down the Atlantic missile range shortly after midnight and a recovery ship plucked its nose cone from the ocean an hour later. Two hours after the Atlas launch, the Thor ruptured in a brilliant blowup high in the sky. The Air Force announced that the range safety officer destroyed the Thor when his instruments detected a malfunction.
